Advanced & Post Reading Material (APRM)
EPP- I, 2025-26 GLA U, Mathura
Module-I (Verbal Ability)
Structural and Functional Categories in English

1. Warm-Up: Brainstorm (10 mins)
Objective: Activate prior knowledge of parts of speech.
Instructions:
➢ Write a list of mixed words on the board:
run, blue, they, quickly, under, wow, love, chair
➢ Ask :What kind of words are these? What job does each word do?"
➢ Write the categories next to the words as learners guess (verb, noun, adjective, etc.).
➢ Structural Categories = What a word is.

2. Presentation: Structural vs. Functional Categories (15 mins)
A. Structural Categories (= Parts of Speech)
Structural Category What it Does
Examples
Noun -Names things cat, idea, Sam
Verb -Shows action/state run, is, think
Adjective- Describes nouns tall, beautiful
Adverb- Describes verbs/adjectives quickly, very Pronoun- Replaces nouns he, them, it
Preposition- Shows relationships in, under, between Conjunction- Joins words/clauses and, but, because Interjection- Expresses emotion wow!, hurrah!, ouch!

Parts of Speech:
Understand how words work in a sentence
There are 8 main parts of speech in English. Each plays a special role. Given below are their definitions and examples.
1. Noun – Names a person, place, thing, or idea.
Examples: teacher, school, book, happiness
Example Sentence: The teacher gave us a book on history.
2. Pronoun – Replaces a noun to avoid repetition.
Examples: I, you, he, she, it, we, they, who, which
Example Sentence: She took the dog because it was barking loudly.
3. Verb – Shows action or state of being.
Examples: run, jump, think, is, was
Example Sentence: They ran to the bus because it was late.
4. Adjective – Describes a noun or pronoun.
Examples: red, tall, smart, three, exciting
Example Sentence : The tall student answered the difficult question.
5. Adverb – Describes a verb, adjective, or another adverb. Often ends in -ly.
Examples: quickly, very, slowly, silently
Example Sentence : He ran quickly and spoke very softly.
6. Preposition – Shows direction, place, or time. Links nouns to the rest of the sentence.
Examples: on, in, at, by, under, between, with Example Sentence: The phone is on the table beside the lamp.
7. Conjunction – Connects words or groups of words.
Examples: and, but, or, so, because, although
Example Sentence: She wanted to go, but it started to rain.
8. Interjection – Shows emotion. Often ends with !
Examples: Wow!, Oh!, Hey!, Oops!
Example Sentence: Oops! I dropped my pencil.

B. Functional Categories (Sentence Roles)
Functional Role What it Does Example Sentence
Subject Who/what does the action The dog barks.
Predicate What the subject does (verb part) The dog barks loudly.
Object What receives the action She likes pizza.
Complement Gives info about subject/object He is a doctor.
Modifier Adds detail The angry cat ran fast.
Important: Words do different jobs in a sentence — these are functions.

Advanced & Post Reading Material (APRM)

EPP- I, 2025-26 GLA U, Mathura

Module-I (Verbal Ability)

Structural and Functional Categories in English

3. Guided Practice: Sentence Sorting (15 mins)

Objective: Identify both structure and function in real sentences.

Example sentence:

"The tall boy kicked the ball."

Word Structural Category Function

The Determiner Modifies noun

tall Adjective Modifier

boy Noun Subject

kicked Verb Predicate

the Determiner Modifies noun

ball Noun Object

5. Independent Practice: Worksheet (15 mins)

Instructions:

1. Label each word by structural category (e.g., N, V, Adj).
2. Identify subject, predicate, and object.
3. Highlight any modifiers or complements.

Sample sentences:

1. Sarah reads every morning.
2. The cat sat on the mat.
3. They are excited about the trip.
4. He gave me a book.
5. The students worked quietly.
6. The political tussle over the controversial Bihar electoral drive escalated on Saturday.
7. His latest comments triggered a sharp reaction from the JDU.
8. The filmmaker admitted that the actor sometimes faces problems memorising his lines.

Application: "Same Word, Different Job/ Task/ Function"

Objective: Understand that word function changes depending on context.

Example 1:

I run every day. → run = verb

I went for a run. → run = noun

Example 2:

That book is boring. → That = determiner

I like that. → That = pronoun

6. Quick Assessment / Quiz (5 mins)

1. What is the function of "she" in "She runs fast"?

A. Object

B. Subject

C. Verb

2. What part of speech is "quickly"?

A. Adjective

B. Noun

C. Adverb

3. What is the object in the sentence "He plays the guitar"?

A. He

B. Plays

C. The guitar

A. Which sentence uses "run" as a noun?

A. I will run now.

B. He went for a run.

C. Run fast!

4. Which of these is a modifier?

A. cat

B. blue

C. runs

Additional Exercise 1: Structural Categories (Parts of Speech)

Label the part of speech (noun, verb, adjective, adverb, pronoun, preposition, conjunction, interjection, determiner) for the word in bold.

1. She runs very fast. → _____
2. I saw a big bird in the sky. → _____
3. Wow! That's amazing. → _____
4. They went to the zoo. → _____
5. He placed the cup on the table. → _____
6. And then it started raining. → _____
7. He bought some apples. → _____
8. She sang the song beautifully. → _____
9. The book is on the desk. → _____
10. He is very kind. → _____

11. She answered the question confidently. → _____
12. Although it rained, we still played outside. → _____
13. He is the tallest player on the team. → _____
14. I gave the book to her. → _____
15. They walked through the forest quietly. → _____

Additional Exercise 1: Functional Categories (Sentence Roles)

Identify the function of the word or phrase in bold (subject, predicate, object, complement, modifier).

1. The cat chased the mouse. → _____
2. John is a teacher. → _____
3. He opened the door. → _____
4. She wore a red dress. → _____
5. Quickly, he ran out the door. → _____
6. He plays the guitar well. → _____
7. She gave me a letter. → _____
8. I like the dress because it's blue. → _____
9. That child is tired. → _____
10. He gave the girl a flower. → _____
11. We were impressed by his performance. → _____
12. That movie was surprisingly good. → _____
13. Under the old bridge, they found treasure. → _____
14. The guests arrived late. → _____
15. His goal is to become a doctor. → _____