1. Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) is best described as a business approach that integrates social and environmental concerns into its operations and interactions with stakeholders, driven by: a) Legal requirements and compliance b) Voluntary commitment beyond legal requirements c) Maximisation of short-term profits d) Government mandates only
2. Which level of Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) involves aligning CSR initiatives with corporate strategy and core business activities to create competitive advantage? a) Operational Level b) Philanthropic Level c) Strategic Level d) Reactive Phase
3. When companies primarily focus on compliance and risk management to mitigate negative impacts, they are operating in which phase of Corporate Social Responsibility? a) Reactive Phase b) Defensive Phase c) Strategic Phase d) Proactive Phase
4. Which CSR model mentioned in the sources provides a framework for aligning corporate actions with global sustainability objectives? a) Carroll's Pyramid of CSR b) Shared Value Creation c) Stakeholder Theory d) Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)
5. Corporate governance is defined as the system of rules, practices, and processes by which companies are directed, controlled, and managed. It primarily aims to ensure: a) Maximisation of shareholder dividends only b) Minimal government intervention c) Accountability, transparency, and ethical behaviour d) Reduced operational costs
6. A key component of Corporate Governance involves ensuring the protection of shareholder rights, including voting and information rights. This is referred to as: a) Board of Directors oversight b) Shareholder Rights c) Ethical Leadership d) Stakeholder Engagement
7. Which principle of Corporate Governance emphasises that companies and directors are answerable to stakeholders for their actions? a) Responsibility b) Fairness c) Transparency d) Accountability
8. The philanthropic activities of the Tata Group, highlighted as an example of CSR, are largely conducted through which entity? a) Wipro Cares b) The Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation c) The Tata Trusts d) The Azim Premji Foundation
9. Azim Premji's foundation focuses primarily on improving education in India, particularly in rural and underserved areas. This initiative is named: a) Tata Trusts b) Wipro Cares c) Azim Premji Foundation d) Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation
10. According to the sources, Bill Gates' philanthropic efforts through his foundation largely focus on which of the following areas? a) Urban infrastructure development b) Global health, education, poverty alleviation, and agricultural development c) Promoting ethical leadership in corporations d) Developing value systems in Indian organisations
11. The list of "Seven Deadly Social Sins" was originally authored by: a) Mahatma Gandhi b) Arun Gandhi c) Frederick Lewis Donaldson d) Rabindranath Tagore
12. Gandhi published the list of "Seven Deadly Social Sins" in which weekly newspaper? a) Harijan b) Young India c) Indian Opinion d) Navjivan
13. According to Gandhi, "Wealth without work" is morally wrong and undermines the dignity of labour, especially when gained through: a) Productive work b) Contribution to society c) Exploitation, corruption, or unethical means d) Legitimate inheritance

14. "Pleasure without conscience" is condemned by Gandhi because it involves: a) Earning wealth b) Pursuing enjoyment at the expense of moral principles or conscience c) Acquiring knowledge d) Participating in political activities

15. Gandhi's concept of "Knowledge without character" argues that knowledge devoid of ethical values and principles can lead to: a) Selfless service and compassion b) Arrogance, selfishness, and misuse of power c) Spiritual liberation d) Economic prosperity

16. In the context of Gandhi's social sins, "Commerce without morality" criticises business practices primarily motivated by: a) Ethical standards and social responsibility b) Profit, greed, or exploitation of others c) Contribution to societal well-being d) Fair trade practices

17. Gandhi cautioned against "Science without humanity," advocating instead for science and technology to be guided by: a) Economic expediency b) Political control c) Humanitarian values for the betterment of humanity d) Personal fame and recognition

18. According to the sources, Gandhi believed that true "Religion without sacrifice" is lacking something essential. True religion involves: a) Focusing on rituals and dogmas only b) External observances c) Sacrifice, compassion, and the pursuit of social justice and equality d) Personal spiritual enlightenment only

19. Gandhi criticised "Politics without principle," advocating for politics guided by: a) Power and self-interest b) Expediency and partisan interests c) Truth, integrity, and the welfare of people d) Personal ambition for leadership

20. Developing a robust value system in an Indian organisation requires recognising: a) International business standards b) The latest technological trends c) Cultural diversity and nuances within the Indian context d) Global economic forecasts

21. When defining core values in an Indian organisation, the source suggests they should resonate with: a) Specific regional dialects b) Western management theories c) Indian cultural ethos and societal norms, such as integrity, respect, inclusivity, and social responsibility d) Historical religious texts only

22. Integrating values into business management involves embedding them into organisational policies, procedures, and practices to ensure: a) Reduced employee autonomy b) Alignment with day-to-day operations c) Increased hierarchy d) Isolation of ethics from business

23. In the context of values in business management, values serve as a framework that guides leaders and employees in making choices that align with the organisation's mission and principles. This is referred to as: a) Performance Evaluation b) Stakeholder Relationships c) Decision-making framework d) Crisis Management

24. Trans-cultural human values in management refer to: a) Specific values relevant only to international corporations b) Ethical principles unique to individual managers c) Universal ethical principles and beliefs that transcend cultural boundaries d) Values dictated by government regulations

25. Which trans-cultural human value in management involves promoting respect for diversity and inclusivity in the workplace, recognising the unique perspectives, backgrounds, and contributions of individuals from different cultures? a) Ethical Leadership b) Cross-cultural Communication c) Respect for Diversity d) Conflict Resolution

26. Ethical leadership, as a trans-cultural human value, implies that managers should uphold ethical principles such as integrity, honesty, and fairness: a) Only when it is legally required b) Only when it benefits the organization financially c) Regardless of cultural differences d) Based on their personal beliefs alone

27. Effective cross-cultural communication in management requires managers to: a) Insist on using only one language b) Avoid engaging with diverse perspectives c) Adapt their communication style, language, and approach to accommodate cultural differences d) Rely solely on written communication

28. The pursuit of Purushartha is described as a path to: a) Material wealth and status b) Holistic and purposeful living c) Political power and influence d) Immediate gratification of desires

29. The four goals of Purushartha, listed in order of priority from lowest to highest, are: a) Moksha, Dharma, Artha, Kama b) Kama, Artha, Dharma, Moksha c) Artha, Kama, Dharma, Moksha d) Dharma, Artha, Kama, Moksha

30. Which of the Purusharthas is considered the foundation of life, encompassing guiding principles, duties, moral obligations, and righteousness? a) Artha b) Kama c) Dharma d) Moksha

31. "Sva-dharma," a type of Dharma, refers to: a) Universal duties applicable to all b) Duty based on life stage and profession c) The pursuit of wealth d) Liberation from the cycle of birth and death

32. According to the Bhagavad Gita example in the sources, Krishna's teachings to Arjuna emphasise the importance of fulfilling one's duty (dharma) and acting without attachment to: a) Financial rewards b) The results of their actions c) Social recognition d) Political power

33. Artha, the pursuit of material well-being and economic security, is considered necessary for a stable and fulfilling life, but it must be acquired through: a) Any means possible b) Just means c) Exploitative practices d) Religious donations only

34. King Harsha is cited as a historical example demonstrating the balance between Artha and Dharma by focusing on the prosperity of his empire while also supporting: a) Personal luxury and extravagance b) Education, religious institutions, and welfare activities c) Military conquest above all else d) Strict adherence to rituals without social impact

35. The ancient concept of Kama, as described in the sources, broadly refers to: a) Strict abstinence from desires b) Sexual fulfillment only c) Any desire, wish, passion, pleasure, or enjoyment of art and beauty, relationships, and life’s pleasures d) The accumulation of spiritual merit

36. Kalidasa's exploration of love in his poetry and dramas, highlighting both joys and sorrows, is given as an example related to which Purushartha? a) Dharma b) Artha c) Kama d) Moksha

37. Moksha, the ultimate goal in Hindu philosophy, represents: a) Accumulation of maximum wealth b) Attaining the highest political office c) Liberation from the cycle of birth and death (samsara) and transcending worldly attachments d) Living a life of constant pleasure

38. According to Adi Shankaracharya's teachings on Moksha in Advaita Vedanta, liberation is primarily attained through: a) Performing numerous rituals b) Amassing great knowledge without application c) Self-realization, where one realises the identity of the individual soul (Atman) with the ultimate reality (Brahman) d) Charitable acts without inner transformation

39. Human values are described as ethical, moral, and philosophical principles that guide human behaviour and interactions. They are considered fundamental beliefs that help individuals determine: a) Market prices and economic trends b) What is right or wrong, good or bad c) The most effective marketing strategies d) Political ideologies

40. According to the sources, human values are considered universal because they: a) Are enforced by international law b) Transcend cultural, religious, and geographical boundaries c) Are taught in every school worldwide d) Originated from a single cultural tradition

41. Which characteristic of values, as described, means they are enduring and stable beliefs that persist over time? a) Subjectivity b) Hierarchical c) Enduring d) Socially constructed

42. Values that are instrumental in nature and are valued for the external rewards or benefits they offer, such as status or wealth, are referred to as: a) Intrinsic Values b) Moral Values c) Extrinsic Values d) Spiritual Values

43. Which type of value pertains to principles of right and wrong, good and bad, and governs ethical behavior and decision-making? a) Cultural Values b) Personal Values c) Universal Values d) Moral Values

44. Corruption is defined in the sources as: a) Earning wealth through hard work b) The abuse of entrusted power for private gain c) Adhering strictly to legal regulations d) Transparent financial reporting

45. Offering, giving, receiving, or soliciting something of value to influence decisions of those in power is specifically defined as: a) Accountability b) Transparency c) Bribery d) Integrity

46. According to the sources, corruption and bribery primarily undermine which values? a) Rationality and logic b) Inner wisdom and intuition c) Integrity and honesty d) Respect for diversity

47. A primary consequence of corruption and bribery listed in the sources is that they: a) Enhance ethical leadership b) Strengthen the rule of law c) Corrode social cohesion and trust d) Promote equitable distribution of resources

48. Websites and social media privacy policies are described as essential documents outlining: a) The company's marketing strategy b) How user data is collected, stored, and used c) Employee performance metrics d) Stock market predictions

49. Which of the following is listed as a significant cyber threat to online shopping platforms and consumers? a) Implementation of SSL encryption b) Use of strong passwords c) Phishing scams and fraudulent transactions d) Regular software updates

50. According to the sources, implementing multi-factor authentication and enforcing strong password policies are recommended remedies for addressing cyber threats related to: a) Secure Payment Processing b) Fraud Detection and Prevention c) User Authentication and Access Control d) Secure Data Storage and Handling

51. The UK Bribery Act (2010) aims to combat bribery and corruption in: a) The public sector only b) The private sector only c) Both public and private sectors d) Only international transactions

52. A key offence defined by the UK Bribery Act is the "Failure of commercial organisations to prevent bribery". This offence implies corporate liability unless the organisation had: a) High profitability b) A large workforce c) Adequate procedures to prevent bribery d) A long history of operation

53. The UK Bribery Act explicitly prohibits "Facilitation Payments," which are described as: a) Payments for legitimate services b) Small bribes to expedite routine government actions c) Bonuses for high performance d) Investments in sustainable projects

54. Sustainable policies in the Indian economy aim for economic growth while preserving the environment and promoting social equity for: a) The government only b) The current generation only c) Foreign investors d) Present and future generations

55. Initiatives such as organic farming, water conservation, and soil management fall under which component of sustainable practices in the Indian economy? a) Environmental Conservation b) Renewable Energy and Green Technology c) Sustainable Agriculture and Rural Development d) Urban Planning and Infrastructure

56. Secular ethics in management primarily relies on: a) Religious dogma b) Inner wisdom and intuition c) Rational decision-making based on logical analysis, empirical evidence, and objective criteria d) Tradition and customs

57. Which feature is characteristic of Secular Values in Management, according to the source? a) Servant Leadership b) Transcendence c) Utilitarianism and Consequentialism d) Compassion and Empathy

58. Transparency and accountability in organisational governance and decision-making are highlighted as important features of: a) Spiritual Values in Management b) Personal Ethics c) Secular Values in Management d) Cultural Values

59. Spiritual values in management are described as emphasising: a) Strict legal compliance b) Maximising financial returns c) Inner well-being and ethical conduct inspired by a broader sense of purpose d) Competition among employees

60. Which of the following is a key feature of Spiritual Values in Management? a) Utilitarianism b) Legal Compliance c) Servant Leadership d) Rationality and Logic

61. The sources suggest that effective management requires the integration of both secular and spiritual values because they are: a) Mutually exclusive b) Complementary c) Contradictory d) Irrelevant to business success

62. At which level of value implementation in an organisation are values internalised and reflected in personal beliefs and actions? a) Organisational Level b) Interpersonal Level c) Structural Level d) Individual Level

63. When values guide the culture, norms, and practices of an organisation, often articulated through mission statements and codes of conduct, they are being implemented at the: a) Individual Level b) Interpersonal Level c) Organisational Level d) Structural Level

64. Swami Vivekananda's philosophy of character building is grounded in: a) External validation and social status b) Self-awareness, self-discipline, and selfless service c) Accumulation of material wealth d) Adherence to rigid dogmas

65. According to Swami Vivekananda, the ultimate goal of human life is self-realisation, which begins with: a) Acquiring political power b) Engaging in social activism c) Self-awareness and introspection d) Strict fasting and penance

66. Dr. APJ Abdul Kalam strongly emphasised the critical role of parents as: a) Sole providers of financial support b) Primary role models and influencers in a child's life c) Academic instructors d) Government representatives

67. Dr. Kalam believed that parents should instil moral and ethical values in children as they form the foundation of: a) Individual careers b) Economic systems c) Technological advancement d) A strong society

68. Dr. Kalam regarded teachers as having which vital role in students' development? a) Evaluators and graders only b) Mentors and guides c) Custodians of historical facts d) Disciplinarians

69. According to Dr. Kalam, an empowering education system should facilitate students to: a) Memorise information without questioning b) Rely solely on teacher's instructions c) Think independently, question assumptions, and develop a spirit of innovation d) Compete aggressively for grades

70. Both Swami Vivekananda and Dr. APJ Abdul Kalam, despite their different approaches, highlight the significance of: a) Political reform b) Economic liberalisation c) Strong moral foundations d) Scientific discovery

71. Dr. Kalam's view on the collaboration between parents and teachers underscores its importance for: a) Reducing school administration workload b) Students' holistic development c) Ensuring compliance with regulations d) Identifying gifted students only

72. Ethics is broadly defined as: a) The study of economic systems b) The rules and principles regulating the behaviour of individuals; the study of what is right or wrong in human conduct c) The process of accumulating wealth d) The practice of meditation

73. Personal ethics are described as ethical principles a person uses when making decisions and behaving. They are primarily: a) Imposed by external codes of conduct b) Self-driven and internalized c) Identical for all individuals d) Learned exclusively in the workplace

74. Unlike professional ethics, which often come from external codes, personal ethics are described as being primarily: a) Explicitly written down b) Subject to legal penalties for non-compliance c) Self-driven and internalised d) Identical across a professional community

75. Professional ethics refers to a set of standards adopted by a professional community. They are typically regulated by standards often referred to as: a) Personal values b) Codes of ethics c) Social norms d) Legal statutes only

76. In the context of professional ethics, which component refers to the consistency of actions, values, methods, and principles, regarded as honesty and truthfulness? a) Transparency b) Accountability c) Confidentiality d) Integrity

77. Transparency, as a component of professional ethics, implies: a) Keeping information secret b) Operating in such a way that it is easy for others to see what actions are performed c) Prioritising personal gain d) Avoiding communication with stakeholders

78. Accountability in ethics and governance is defined as: a) The ability to avoid responsibility b) Answerability, blameworthiness, liability, and the expectation of account-giving c) Maintaining strict control over subordinates d) Focusing solely on outcomes, not process

79. Which component of professional ethics involves ensuring that information is accessible only to those authorised to have access? a) Integrity b) Transparency c) Accountability d) Confidentiality

80. According to the source, Respectfulness in an organisation is key to success because it involves: a) Strict adherence to hierarchical structures b) Demonstrating esteem or deference for a person or entity and conduct in accord with an ethic of respect c) Avoiding all forms of criticism d) Prioritising individual achievement over teamwork

81. Honesty, as a component of professional ethics, connotes positive and virtuous attributes such as: a) Power and control b) Integrity, truthfulness and straightforwardness along with the absence of lying, cheating or theft c) Ruthlessness in competition d) Manipulating information

82. Employees working in an organisation are bound to obey: a) Only ethical principles b) Only the instructions of their immediate supervisor c) The Laws & Regulations of that organisation, as well as governmental laws d) Only universal human values

83. Social ethics refers to principles and values that guide individuals and societies in making decisions that promote: a) Individual prosperity b) Harmonious coexistence and well-being among people c) Technological dominance d) Political stability through authoritarian rule

84. Universality, as a component of social ethics, implies that ethical principles of justice and equity apply to all people, regardless of their origin, gender, religion, or other characteristics. This approach seeks to ensure that all individuals are treated with: a) Superiority b) Impartiality c) Equality and respect d) Differentiation based on merit

85. Which component of social ethics promotes collaboration and mutual support between members of society and implies being willing to help others in times of need? a) Universality b) Social Justice c) Empathy d) Solidarity

86. Social justice, a pillar of social ethics, seeks to guarantee that all people have equal access to opportunities and resources and involves combating: a) Technological advancements b) Discrimination, inequality and exclusion c) Economic growth d) Cultural diversity

87. Empathy in social ethics is described as crucial for developing healthy relationships and creating a climate of mutual understanding and respect between people. It is the ability to: a) Control others' emotions b) Judge others' feelings c) Ignore others' perspectives d) Put yourself in the shoes of others and understand their feelings and perspectives

88. One key difference between Personal Ethics and Professional Ethics is that Personal Ethics relate to deep-rooted principles, while Professional Ethics refer to: a) Legal requirements only b) Strict codes of conduct and guidelines imposed on employees within the industrial setting c) Universal religious values d) Values learned from family and friends

89. The source notes a difference in accountability between personal and professional ethics. In professional ethics, accountability is not only on the individual but also on: a) The government b) Society as a whole c) The organisation as well d) Religious institutions

90. Non-compliance with personal ethics primarily causes: a) Risk to professional reputation b) Mental disharmony and personal dilemma c) Legal prosecution d) Organisational penalties

91. Human values are defined as fundamental beliefs that help individuals determine what is right or wrong, good or bad, and shape their attitudes, choices, and actions. They are deeply rooted in: a) External regulations b) Political ideologies c) Human consciousness d) Economic theories

92. Values serve as guiding principles that shape behaviour, decisions, and attitudes. According to the source, they also serve as: a) Legal mandates b) Motivators for actions c) Scientific hypotheses d) Historical records

93. The source lists several characteristics of values. Which characteristic indicates that values can be hierarchical, with some considered more fundamental than others? a) Enduring b) Subjectivity c) Hierarchical d) Influence on Behavior

94. Values play a significant role in shaping individuals' identities and sense of self, contributing to the formation of personal identity, character, and: a) Financial status b) Social network c) Moral integrity d) Professional title

95. While values are deeply personal, the source also states they are socially constructed, influenced by: a) Genetic makeup only b) Cultural, societal, familial and environmental factors c) Random chance d) Economic fluctuations alone

96. Sustainable policies, particularly in the Indian economy, aim to balance economic growth with: a) Political dominance b) Short-term profit maximisation c) Preserving the environment and promoting social equity d) Increased resource extraction

97. The National Action Plan on Climate Change and Swachh Bharat Abhiyan are examples mentioned in the sources related to which component of sustainable practices in India? a) Renewable Energy and Green Technology b) Sustainable Agriculture and Rural Development c) Environmental Conservation d) Urban Planning and Infrastructure

98. Programs like MGNREGA and NRLM in India are cited as relevant to which component of sustainable practices? a) Environmental Conservation b) Urban Planning and Infrastructure c) Social Equity and Inclusive Growth d) Circular Economy and Waste Management

99. Dr. APJ Abdul Kalam encouraged parents to nurture their children's curiosity, creativity, and thirst for knowledge by providing: a) Strict supervision b) Only academic resources c) A supportive environment for exploration and learning d) Limited access to information

100. Swami Vivekananda stressed cultivating mental strength and resilience to overcome life's challenges, advocating development of qualities like: a) Cunning and manipulation b) Courage, perseverance, and determination c) Indifference and passivity d) Dependence on others

---

Answer Key

1. b) Voluntary commitment beyond legal requirements
2. c) Strategic Level

3. b) Defensive Phase
4. d) Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)
5. c) Accountability, transparency, and ethical behaviour
6. b) Shareholder Rights
7. d) Accountability
8. c) The Tata Trusts
9. c) Azim Premji Foundation
10. b) Global health, education, poverty alleviation, and agricultural development
11. c) Frederick Lewis Donaldson
12. b) Young India
13. c) Exploitation, corruption, or unethical means
14. b) Pursuing enjoyment at the expense of moral principles or conscience
15. b) Arrogance, selfishness, and misuse of power
16. b) Profit, greed, or exploitation of others
17. c) Humanitarian values for the betterment of humanity
18. c) Sacrifice, compassion, and the pursuit of social justice and equality
19. c) Truth, integrity, and the welfare of people
20. c) Cultural diversity and nuances within the Indian context
21. c) Indian cultural ethos and societal norms, such as integrity, respect, inclusivity, and social responsibility
22. b) Alignment with day-to-day operations
23. c) Decision-making framework
24. c) Universal ethical principles and beliefs that transcend cultural boundaries
25. c) Respect for Diversity
26. c) Regardless of cultural differences
27. c) Adapt their communication style, language, and approach to accommodate cultural differences
28. b) Holistic and purposeful living
29. c) Artha, Kama, Dharma, Moksha
30. c) Dharma
31. b) Duty based on life stage and profession
32. b) The results of their actions

33. b) Just means
34. b) Education, religious institutions, and welfare activities
35. c) Any desire, wish, passion, pleasure, or enjoyment of art and beauty, relationships, and life's pleasures
36. c) Kama
37. c) Liberation from the cycle of birth and death (samsara) and transcending worldly attachments
38. c) Self-realization, where one realises the identity of the individual soul (Atman) with the ultimate reality (Brahman)
39. b) What is right or wrong, good or bad
40. b) Transcend cultural, religious, and geographical boundaries
41. c) Enduring
42. c) Extrinsic Values
43. d) Moral Values
44. b) The abuse of entrusted power for private gain
45. c) Bribery
46. c) Integrity and honesty
47. c) Corrode social cohesion and trust
48. b) How user data is collected, stored, and used
49. c) Phishing scams and fraudulent transactions
50. c) User Authentication and Access Control
51. c) Both public and private sectors
52. c) Adequate procedures to prevent bribery
53. b) Small bribes to expedite routine government actions
54. d) Present and future generations
55. c) Sustainable Agriculture and Rural Development
56. c) Rational decision-making based on logical analysis, empirical evidence, and objective criteria 57. c) Utilitarianism and Consequentialism
58. c) Secular Values in Management
59. c) Inner well-being and ethical conduct inspired by a broader sense of purpose
60. c) Servant Leadership

61. b) Complementary
62. d) Individual Level
63. c) Organisational Level
64. b) Self-awareness, self-discipline, and selfless service
65. c) Self-realisation
66. b) Primary role models and influencers in a child's life
67. d) A strong society
68. b) Mentors and guides
69. c) Think independently, question assumptions, and develop a spirit of innovation
70. c) Strong moral foundations
71. b) Students' holistic development
72. b) The rules and principles regulating the behaviour of individuals; the study of what is right or wrong in human conduct
73. b) Self-driven and internalized
74. c) Self-driven and internalised
75. b) Codes of ethics
76. d) Integrity
77. b) Operating in such a way that it is easy for others to see what actions are performed
78. b) Answerability, blameworthiness, liability, and the expectation of account-giving
79. d) Confidentiality
80. b) Demonstrating esteem or deference for a person or entity and conduct in accord with an ethic of respect
81. b) Integrity, truthfulness and straightforwardness along with the absence of lying, cheating or theft
82. c) The Laws & Regulations of that organisation, as well as governmental laws
83. b) Harmonious coexistence and well-being among people
84. c) Equality and respect
85. d) Solidarity
86. b) Discrimination, inequality and exclusion
87. d) Put yourself in the shoes of others and understand their feelings and perspectives
88. b) Strict codes of conduct and guidelines imposed on employees within the industrial setting
89. c) The organisation as well

90. b) Mental disharmony and personal dilemma
91. c) Human consciousness
92. b) Motivators for actions
93. c) Hierarchical
94. c) Moral integrity
95. b) Cultural, societal, familial and environmental factors
96. c) Preserving the environment and promoting social equity
97. c) Environmental Conservation
98. c) Social Equity and Inclusive Growth
99. c) A supportive environment for exploration and learning
100. b) Courage, perseverance, and determination