End Term Examination, Odd Semester 2018-19

Programme: B-Tech Branch: CSE Year: II

Subject: Operating Systems, BCSC 0004

Time: 3 Hours Maximum Marks: 50

Section-A

Attempt all Questions 7 x 5 = 35 Marks

I. Discuss different types of operating systems with examples. Also comment on the validity of following statement "An operating system creates virtual devices when it is short of real devices".

II. What is the main advantage for an operating system designer of using a virtual machine architecture? What are the advantages for the user of using this architecture?

Or

II. Explain different types of access methods for files. Suppose, a file named "data" is frequently accessed by users in a system. The following alternatives are proposed to simplify access to data.

a. Set up links from every user's home directory to data.

b. Copy data into every user's home directory.

Compare the advantages and drawbacks of these approaches.

III. What are the benefits of multithreading programming? Explain different types of multithreading models.

IV. Round-robin schedulers normally maintain a list of all runnable processes, with each process occurring exactly once in the list. What would happen if a process occurred twice in the list? Can you think of any reason for allowing this? Most of the Round – robin schedulers uses a fixed time quantum. Give an argument for small and large time quantum.

V. Explain hardware based solution to the synchronization problem. Also show that, if both the wait () and signal() semaphore operations are not executed atomically, then mutual exclusion may be violated.

Or

V. Two concurrent processes share a data item sum, which is initialized to 0. However, they do not use mutual exclusion while accessing its value. Each process contains a loop that executes 50 times and contains the single statement sum = sum+1. If no other operations are performed on sum, indicate the lower bound and upper bound on the value of sum when both processes terminate. Also, explain your reasoning.

VI. Five batch jobs. A through E, arrive at the CPU at almost the same time. They have estimated running times of 10, 6, 2, 4, and 8 minutes. Their (externally determined) priorities are 3, 5, 2, 1, and 4, respectively, with 5 being the highest priority. For priority and round- robin scheduling (time quantum = 2) algorithms, determine the average turnaround time, average response time, average waiting time.

VII. Why segmentation and paging sometimes combined in one section? Consider the following segment table:

Segment	Base	Length
0	219	600
1	2300	14
2	90	100
3	1327	580
4	1952	96

What are the physical addresses for the following logical addresses?

a) 0,430
b) 1,10
c) 2,500
d) 3,400
e) 4,112

Section-B

Attempt All Questions 3 x 2 = 6 marks

I. What kind of hardware support OS need to implement TLB? Is it possible to increase TLB size of a computer by upgrading or updating the OS? (2)

II. Consider a swapping system in which memory consists of the following hole sizes in memory order: 10 MB, 4 MB, 20 MB, 18 MB, 7 MB, 9 MB, 12 MB, and 15 MB. Which hole is taken for successive segment requests of

(a) 12 MB
(b) 10 MB
(c) 9 MB

for first fit? Now repeat the question for best fit, worst fit, and next fit. (2)

III. What is the cause of thrashing? How can you model thrashing based on working set of processes? (2)

Attempt All Questions 3 x 3 = 9 marks

IV. A computer system has a 36-bit virtual address space with a page size of 8K, and 4 bytes per page table entry.

a) How many pages are in the virtual address space?
b) What is the maximum size of addressable physical memory in this system?
c) If the average process size is 8GB, then compute the average size of a page table for a two-level page table? (Use P1= 12 & P2= 11 in page field of Virtual Address) (3)

V. Disk requests come in to the disk driver for cylinders 10, 22, 20, 2, 40, 6, and 38, in that order. A seek takes 6 msec per cylinder. How much seek time is needed for

(a) First-come, first served.
(b) SSTF
(c) Elevator algorithm (initially moving upward).

In all cases, the arm is initially at cylinder 20. (3)

VI. Consider the following page reference string:

1, 2, 3, 3, 4, 2, 1, 5, 6, 2, 1, 2, 3, 7, 6, 3, 2, 1, 2, 3, 6.

How many page faults will occur if FIFO, LRU and Optimal page replacement policy are used? Assume there are 4 page frames and initially all are empty. (3)

Subject Code: BCSC 0005 Subject Name: Computer Organization

Max Marks: 50 Duration: 3 hours

Section-A (7 X 5 = 35 marks)

Note: Attempt ALL questions

I. Consider a register A holding 8-bit binary 10101101. Determine the value of B operand and logic/shift microoperation to be performed in order to change the value in A to:

a. 11101111 b. 01100110 c. 00001001 d. 10000001
e. 01011011

II. Draw the block diagram of 64-word stack and explain how push and pop operations are implemented in it using various micro operations.
The content of the top of a memory stack is 1120. The content of the stack pointer SP is 5040. A two-word call subroutine instruction is located in memory at address 2441 followed by address field of 6720 at location 2442. What are the content of PC, SP and top of stack:
a. Before the call instruction is fetched from the memory.
b. After the call instruction is executed.

III. What is the purpose of control memory? Draw the block diagram of micro-program sequencer for a control memory and also explain it.

IV. Define the following:

a. Micro-operation b. Micro-instruction c. Micro-routine
d. Control word e. Micro program counter

V. What is bus arbitration? Explain various mechanisms for bus arbitration in detail. Also specify advantage and disadvantage of each of them.

VI. Explain various cache mapping techniques. A computer system has a 4K word cache organized in block associative manner with 4 blocks per set, 64 words per block. The main memory contains 65536 blocks. How many bits are there in each of the TAG, SET and WORD fields?

VII. Differentiate between:

a. DMA and Input/Output processor

b. Isolated input/output and Memory mapped input/output

Section- B

Note: Attempt ALL questions (3 X 2= 6 marks)

(I)A. Why are the read and write control lines in a DMA controller bidirectional? Under what conditions they are used as inputs and under what conditions they are used as output?

B. What are the various write policies used to write data in cache? Explain them with advantage and disadvantage of each.

C. Consider a digital computer has a memory unit of 64K X 16 and cache memory of 1K word. The cache uses direct mapping with 4 block size of four words.

a. How many bits are there in the TAG, BLOCK and WORD fields?

b. How many blocks can cache accommodate.

Note: Attempt ALL questions (3 X 3= 9 marks)

(II) A. Consider a 32- bit microprocessor that has an on-chip 16 KB four way set-associative cache. Assume that the cache has a line size of four 32-bit words. Draw a block diagram of this cache showing its organization and how the different address fields are used to determine a cache hit/miss. Where in the cache is the word from memory location ABCDE8F8 mapped?

B. a. How many 128 X 8 RAM chips are needed to provide a memory capacity of 2048 bytes?

b. How many lines of the address bus must be used to access 2048 bytes of memory? How many of these lines will be common to all chips?

c. How many lines must be decoded for chip select? Specify the size of decoder.

C. Consider the following page address trace generated by a two-level memory scheme using page system. The memory has capacity of four pages:

6 4 5 1 4 3 2 1 2 1 4 6 7 4

Assuming the memory has pages 1, 2, 3 and 4 initially. Show the number of page faults using following replacement policies:

a. FIFO b. LRU

Time: - 3 Hrs. Course:- B. Tech. III Sem. Max. Marks:- 50

Note - Attempt BOTH Sections.

SECTION A (7 x 5 = 35 marks)

Note: ALL questions of this section are COMPULSORY. Each question is of Five marks.

Q.1. Obtain the Fourier series to represent $F(x) = \frac{1}{4}(\pi - x)^2$ in the interval $0 \leq x \leq 2\pi$.
Hence or otherwise evaluate:
(a) $\sum_{k=1}^{\infty} \frac{1}{k^2}$ (b) $\sum_{s=1}^{\infty} \frac{1}{(2s-1)^2}$

Q.2. Find the half range sine series of $F(x) = lx - x^2$ in the interval $(0, l)$. Hence deduce that, $$\frac{\pi^3}{32} = 1 - \frac{1}{3^3} + \frac{1}{5^3} - \frac{1}{7^3} + \cdots$$

Q.3. An infinitely long plane uniform plate is bounded by two parallel edges and an end at right angles to them. The breadth is π. This end is maintained at temperature u_0 at all points and the other edges are at zero temperature. Determine the temperature at any point of the plate in the steady state.

Q.4. Given that: $L(t \sin \omega t) = \frac{2\omega p}{(p^2+\omega^2)^2}$ (ω is a constant).
Using it, evaluate:

(a) $L(\omega t \cos \omega t + \sin \omega t)$

(b) $L(3 \sin \omega t + \omega t \cos \omega t)$

Q.5. Use convolution theorem to evaluate:

Q.6. If f (z) = u + iv is an analytic function of z = x+ iy, find f (z) in terms of z if $$2u - v = e^x(2\cos y - \sin y).$$

Q.7. Using contour integration, evaluate: $\int_0^{2\pi} \frac{d\theta}{a+b\cos\theta}; a > |b|$

Hence or otherwise evaluate: $\int_0^{2\pi} \frac{d\theta}{\sqrt{2}-\cos\theta}$

SECTION B (15 marks)

Note: Attempt ALL questions. Marks are shown against them.

Q.1. An electrostatic field in the xy-plane is given by potential function $\varphi(x, y) = 3x^2y - y^3$, find stream function $\psi(x, y)$ if $\varphi + i\psi$ is an analytic function of z. (2)

Q.2. Write a short note on singularities of a complex function and its types giving suitable examples. (2)

Q.3. Using Cauchy's residue theorem, evaluate: (3)

$$\int_c \frac{3z^2+z+1}{(z-1)(z+1)(z+3)}\,dz$$

where c is the circle $|z| = 4$.

Q.4. State Cauchy's integral formula.
Hence or otherwise evaluate:

$$\int_c \frac{e^{i\pi z}}{2z^2-5z+2}\,dz$$ where c is a unit circle with centre at origin and having positive orientation. (1 + 2)

Q.5. Evaluate $\int_0^{1+i}(x - y + ix^2)\,dz$ along, (3)

(a) the straight line y = x.

(b) the real axis from z = 0 to z = 1 and then along a line parallel to imaginary axis from z = 1 to z = 1+ i.

Q.6. Expand $f(z) = \frac{1}{z^2-3z+2}$ in the following regions: (2)

(a) $|z| < 1$ (b) $0 < |z-1| < 1$

BCSC0002: Object Oriented Programming

Time: 3 Hour Maximum Marks: 50

Section-A

Attempt all questions: 7 x 5=35 Marks

1. What are the features of Object Oriented Programming? Explain each of them in brief.
2. Create a program in java that asks the user to input a number and prints the details of the number as follows:
   Enter a number:
   Entered number: 5
   Prime: Yes
   Factorial: 120
3. What do you mean by saying that Strings are immutable objects? Explain using an example the creation of an object in heap memory and an object in String constant pool simultaneously. Also, show the difference of == operator and equals () method through an example.
4. What do you mean by Polymorphism? Differentiate between method overloading and method overriding. Give example of each.
5. What are class variables? Explain their significance. Can you call a method without creating an object of its class? Explain using an example.
6. What do you mean by an Abstract class? How does it differ from an interface? If an interface has three methods, what are the properties of those methods?

7. What do you mean by Exception Handling in java? Explain using an example the handling of an unchecked Exception. Name any 2 predefined Exception classes. Differentiate between throw and throws in Exception handling.

Section-B

(a)Attempt all questions 3 x 2 =6 Marks

1. What are Wrapper classes in java? Explain its significance.
2. Why is multiple inheritance not supported in java through a class?
3. Show the use of "this" keyword for accessing the instance variable of a class.

(b) Attempt all questions 3 x 3 =9 Marks

1. Give the significance of final keyword in context to variable, method and a class.
2. What do you mean by constructor chaining implemented in a class? Explain giving an example.
3. Create an application (Person.java and Test.java) in Java that asks 5 persons to input their details (name and age) one after the other and prints the details of the eldest and the youngest.

Section A 0.5 x 6=3

1. You are playing with and talking to your pet dog, such level of communication is called _____
2. The response given by the receiver to the sender in any communication process is called_____.
3. The mode of information in which the information flows from upper level to lower level in an organization is known as_____ communication.
4. Subha can't talk in Hindi and Deepak can't talk in English, which barrier they are likely to face if they talk to each other?
5. Which method of paragraph writing can be used to enumerate the steps in installing antivirus in the laptop, chronological or spatial?
6. What is the full form of 'Bcc' in Email writing?
7. What is Consonant Sound?
8. Write the full form of MTI.
9. Write a word which has /ʤ/ sound in its pronunciation.
10. Phonetically transcribe the word, 'Machine'.

Section B 2x3=6

Word Limit: 90 words

1. What do you mean by 'ABC of Writing'? Elaborate your idea with proper examples.

2. Write any two advantages and two disadvantages of power point presentation over the traditional presentation methods.

3. Write a note on any one of the following:
   i. Vowel Sounds
   ii. Role of Gestures and Postures in Presentation

4. Write a note on coherence and cohesion in paragraph writing.

Section C 3x3=9

Word Limit: 150 words

1. Explain the process of communication with the help of a flowchart.

2. Write your views and arguments on the topic, 'India will be Super Power by 2025' as if you are participating in a GD. The arugments must be substaniated by facts, data and logic.

3. Assume that you are a student of Mechanical Engineering at GLA University, Mathura. Write an e-mail to Mr. Rajendra Singh (e-mail address: rsingh@gmail.com), the HR Manager of Ashok Leyland Corporation requesting him to allow you to do summer training at the Kanpur plant of the company.

Passage I

Prior to the fall of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics (USSR), Mikhail Gorbachev, seeing a country falling behind its Western rival and a people increasingly clamoring for change, addressed the growing internal unrest in the summer of 1987 by introducing a series of reforms known as perestroika (literally, restructuring). In Perestroika: New Thinking for Our Country and the World, Mikhail Gorbachev discussed his analysis of the problems facing the USSR and his plans to solve them.

Perhaps the most pressing and visible problem facing the USSR in the last 1980s came in the form of the country's consistently mediocre economic performance, despite its vast natural resource wealth and large labor force. Gorbachev flatly admitted that economic failures were increasing and current policies were failing to offer a sustainable remedy. Failing to take advantage of the numerous scientific and technological advancements available, the USSR relied on inefficient and outdated business models. As a result, Gorbachev said, "in the last fifteen years the national income growth rates had declined by more than a half and by the beginning of the eighties had fallen to a level close to economic stagnation." With business executives focused on using more resources (in order to employ more people) instead of becoming more efficient, the country produced poor quality products unable to compete in a global economy. Further, this inefficiency led to shortages: "the Soviet Union, the world's biggest producer of steel, raw materials, fuel and energy, has shortfalls in them due to wasteful or inefficient use."

The decrepit economy engendered social unrest and woe that only compounded economic difficulties and societal misery. Gorbachev wrote of "a gradual erosion of the ideological and moral values of our people" and noted the considerable growth in "alcoholism, drug addiction and crime." Accentuating these difficulties, the Communist government often ignored the needs of the average citizen, causing distrust and resentment. Perhaps the most destructive element of the social unraveling and inadequate government response was the mediocre education system. Gorbachev said, "Creative thinking was driven out from the social sciences, and superfluous and voluntarist assessments and judgments were declared indisputable truths."

Although Gorbachev also opined about the growing public disbelief in the content of the immense government propaganda campaigns, the extent to which economic underdevelopment and social deviance gripped Soviet culture made the collapse of the USSR virtually inevitable in the minds of many observers. When combined with glasnost (literally, openness), Gorbachev's plan that allowed greater transparency, perestroika actually served to hasten the collapse of the USSR. Contrary to its purpose, perestroika ensured that the fall of the USSR would occur sooner rather than later. Only a few years after Gorbachev implemented changes that would have been unthinkable and antithetical to the philosophy of previous leaders like Lenin, Stalin, and Khrushchev, the USSR fell.

81. Which of the following best describes the primary objective of the passage?

A. Argue that the implementation of perestroika caused the fall of the Soviet Union
B. Explain perestroika along with its roots and consequences
C. Analyze the pros and cons of Mikhail Gorbachev's decision to implement perestroika
D. Explain the short-falls of a communist system and offer remedies
E. Discuss the role of Mikhail Gorbachev in propelling the USSR towards ceasing to exist

82. The passage implies that which of the following was most true of the Soviet economy prior to perestroika:

A. Suffered from underperformance due to excessive government regulation and micro-management
B. Failed to meet its potential as a result of corruption and bureaucratic overhead
C. Lacked adequate natural resources to grow efficiently, regardless of business management
D. Focused on achieving high-employment rather than export-capable products
E. With declining growth and stagnation, USSR stood in the worst shape ever in its history

83. Based upon the passage, the author would likely agree most with which of the following characterizations of the impact of the USSR's troubled economy during the days leading up to perestroika?

A. Cause for renewed determination in communist philosophy
B. Reason that natives looked increasingly to the West and capitalism
C. Source of frustration and discomfort among citizens that fueled social friction
D. Justification for the USSR's neglect of the needs of many citizens
E. Primary cause of the USSR's poor educational system

84. According to the passage, which of the following best describes the relationship between perestroika and the fall of the USSR?
A. Perestroika mildly delayed the fall of the USSR, although the decline of the Soviet Republic was inevitable
B. Perestroika hastened the decline of the USSR
C. Perestroika enabled the USSR to pursue much needed restructuring
D. Perestroika softened the impact from the collapse of the USSR
E. Perestroika had little relationship to the decline of the USSR, which was inevitable anyway

85. In the context of the passage, the author most likely uses the word "unthinkable" (in the last sentence) to help convey which of the following points about the changes Gorbachev implemented in perestroika?
A. They would have never crossed the mind of Lenin as being conceptually possible, let alone desirable or feasible
B. They would have been difficult for the mind of Lenin to comprehend intelligibly
C. They would have been seen by Lenin as undesirable and poor choices
D. They would have been seen by Lenin as incomprehensible yet appealing
E. They would have been considered highly desirable

86. Gorbachev offers all of the following as evidence of the need for perestroika EXCEPT:
A. Shortages in natural resources due to inefficiency
B. Declines in economic output and growth
C. Slides in moral values of citizens
D. Erosion of new and ingenious thinking
E. Frustrations with the results of past reform efforts

87. Which of the following words best describes the passage's tone?
A. Primarily Analytical
B. Highly Critical
C. Frustrated
D. Not Objective
E. Deeply Introspective

Passage II

One of my favorite vacation places is Mexico. I really like the weather there because it never gets cold. The people are very nice too. They never laugh at my bad Spanish. The food is really good. B. Perestroika hastened the decline of the USSR
C. Perestroika enabled the USSR to pursue much needed restructuring
D. Perestroika softened the impact from the collapse of the USSR
E. Perestroika had little relationship to the decline of the USSR, which was inevitable anyway

63. In the context of the passage, the author most likely uses the word "unthinkable" (in the last sentence) to help convey which of the following points about the changes Gorbachev implemented in perestroika?

A. They would have never crossed the mind of Lenin as being conceptually possible. let alone desirable or feasible
B. They would have been difficult for the mind of Lenin to comprehend intelligibly
C. They would have been seen by Lenin as undesirable and poor choices
D. They would have been seen by Lenin as incomprehensible yet appealing
E. They would have been considered highly desirable

64. Gorbachev offers all of the following as evidence of the need for perestroika EXCEPT:
A. Shortages in natural resources due to inefficiency
B. Declines in economic output and growth
C. Slides in moral values of citizens
D. Erosion of new and ingenious thinking
E. Frustrations with the results of past reform efforts

65. Which of the following words best describes the passage's tone?
A. Primarily Analytical
B. Highly Critical
C. Frustrated
D. Not Objective
E. Deeply Introspective

Passage II

One of my favorite vacation places is Mexico. I really like the weather there because it never gets cold. The people are very nice too. They never laugh at my bad Spanish. The food is really good. Mexico City is a very interesting place to visit. It has some great museums and lots of fascinating old buildings. The hotels are too expensive to stay but there are more affordable options. For example, you can stay at one of the beach resorts like Acapulco. If you are planning to visit Mexico, you should definitely see the Mayan temples near Merida.

66. Which one is correct according to the passage:
A. The writer likes Warm weather.
B. The writer doesn't like warm weather at all
C. The writer hates warm weather
D. The writer likes cold weather
E. The writer has no preference about the weather.

67. How is the writer's Spanish:
A. Excellent
B. Good
C. Bad
D. Very bad
E. He doesn't know any Spanish

68. Which one is true about Mexico according to the passage:
A. There's a lot to see and do in Mexico
B. There aren't a lot of beautiful places in Mexico
C. Mexico is a dirty place
D. Tourists never come to Mexico
E. You have no option but to spend a lot of money if you wish to wish to stay at Mexico.

Fill in the blanks with the suitable options:

69. _____ you tell me the way to the nearest post office?
A. could B. might
C. should D. must
E. None of these

70. The roof is _____ by a friend of ours.
A. repair B. repairing
C. being repaired D. been repaired
E. None of these

71. Your life will _____ by this book.
A. change B. be changed
C. be changing D. have changed

Passage 1 (15X1= 15)

Ethics offer a kind of learning to an engineer to develop professional personality that s/he must possess in order to develop civic sense and create a better society. An engineer needs ethical personality governed by reasons to justify the technological developments for the society. Here, comes the idea of an ethical attitude that further develops a kind of professional personality to understand the interdependence of society, environment and technology. And, a good engineer has to justify developments by making a good balance of the above three dimensions.

Commenting, in the same context, about the engineering domain; we can say we need to justify the engineering advancements with social convenience and human health. A technology has to be engineered to secure the two factors and justifying the reasons to be good for humans. There are two kinds of basic needs that an engineer requires in order to be called a good professional: 1) Sound Technological Knowledge and 2) Sound Ethical Decision making. The first is developed by engineering and the second is fulfilled by the ethics. Let's talk about ethical decision making (hereafter: EDM). And before we talk about the EDM lets try to understand about the ethics and ethical analysis. Ethics offers an explanation to the three basic questions. First, what is good and bad? Second, what is right and wrong? Third, what ought to be done and what ought not to be done? Ethics is a critical inquiry into the first order of morality. And, the first order of morality is the way a society evolves through mores (rituals, rules and norms) to regulate the people. Morality varies with different societies and times. In ethical discourse we examine the morality by raising questions to understand the reasons and we also analyze the matter in question by using the science and technological views. Moreover, we assess the matter by taking the other possible point of views. We consider the approach of individual rights and liberties, and social welfare. Let's take an example to understand about the ethical analysis and its ingredients. Euthanasia (mercy-killing) is the issue where most of the societies do not give permission to a person to take assisted suicide. However, ethically analyzing the matter we understand that when science recommends a person who is suffering from a terminal disease and cannot survive longer. The person who has been suffering from immense pain cannot be satisfied with the moral only that we have got a duty to live. This is the reason why the issues becomes highly debatable in ethical analysis and carrying the recommendation of science, the sufferer's point of view and his individual rights such cases sometimes allow for mercy-killing. The purpose of ethical analysis is to develop a sound professional personality by nurturing the rationality. It is the capacity to understand the matters in the light of reasons and not by the emotions. Sometimes given with the abundance of reasons it becomes difficult to choose the right and relevant one. There, we need the critical thinking to settle down the right line of actions in a given time and situations. With these two abilities we develop a sort of problem-solving that makes our actions more practical and easy-going without confusions and indecisiveness. Problem-solving leads to the active life. And, when these three abilities take place in one's professional attitude it gives birth to a sound decision making in a person to lead a better life and to create a better world to live.

Thus Ethical Decision Making is composed of the ability to engage in ethical discourse with rationality, critical thinking, problem solving and decision making to analyze the life issues (problems of one's personal life, social life, and professional life). Runway trolley case is one of the examples to understand the point. Moreover, there are three different approaches to handle the problems in a wider sense:1) Consequentialist approach, 2) Non-consequentialist approach , and 3) Virtue based approach. Consequentialist approach put emphasis on the results of the choices, actions and decisions (hereafter; CAD). This we have analyzed in the Life-boat case. Jeremy Bentham founded the theory namely, Utilitarianism. According to this theory we should decide about the ethics of any CAD on the grounds of utility and utility by the goodness, happiness and pleasures. The GHP factor becomes guideline for the positive cases, while in negative cases we should minimize the pain and unhappiness. This theory claims to be universal account of morality. It is naturalistic as it is derived from the human nature that people desire happiness and pleasure and they avoid sadness and pains. However, Mill's approach is more balanced and reasonably based on human faculties

On the other hand, the non-consequentialist approach maintains that the ethics of any CAD must be governed by the very nature of rules, principles and morals. This system was originally developed by Immanuel Kant and he calls it the Deontological system. This approach takes into account the two important aspects:1) Rationality and 2) the Sense of duty. We must act on our duties. And, the duties must be mutually satisfied by the two human capacities; they are rationality and autonomy (freedom). This theory claims to be universal account of morality like the utilitarianism. But, it's not naturalistic as it is based on human rationality and not grounded in the human experiences and emotions.

Questions:

1) The consequentialist approach put emphasis on:
   1) The sense of duty
   2) The result of an action
   3) The GHP
   4) The utility
   5) Individual feelings

   a. 1& 4, b. only 1& 5 c. 1,2, 3 & 5 d. 2,3&4
2) What is true about the problem solving?
   1) It develops analytical mind.
   2) It is developed through rationality and critical thinking.
   3) It makes our actions more confusing.
   4) It removes confusions and indecisiveness.
   5) Its need of engineering

   a. 1, 2 & 3 b. 1,2,4,& 5 c. only 1& 3 d. all of these
3) Which of the following statements are not right about ethics?
   1) It is study without reasons.
   2) It is a study of science.
   3) It is a critical study.
   4) It is a study of right and wrong.

   a. 1& 2 b 3& 4 c. only 2 d. none of these
4) Why do we need ethics in engineering?
   1) It is to understand the interdependence of society, environment and technology.
   2) It is needed to create a better professional.
   3) It develops an ethical attitude to justify the developments.
   4) It is to make engineering more profitable.

   a. 1, 2 & 4 b. 1,2& 3 c 3& 4 d. all of these

5) What are the dissimilarities between the utilitarianism and deontology?
   1) Both offer a guideline to human CAD.
   2) Both claim to be universal account of morality.
   3) One minds result, while other duty.
   4) One cares happiness, while other reason.
   5) One cares pleasure, while other pain.
   a. 1& 4 &5 b. 2& 4& 5 c. 3& 4 d. 1&2 & 5
6) What is ethical analysis (ethical discourse)?
   1) It is analyzing the matter in the light of scientific reasons.
   2) It is analyzing the matter through critical questioning.
   3) It is clarifying the matter through different point of views.
   4) In this we consider the individual rights and liberties.
   a. 1& 2 b. only 1c. 3& 4 d. all of these
7) What is EDM?
   1) It is handling the life problems with rationality and critical thinking.
   2) It is ethical decision making.
   3) It is problem solving with sound decision making.
   4) It is consequentialist reasoning.
   a. 1,2&3 b. 3& 4 c. 2,3&4 d. none of these
8) What can we conclude about the euthanasia under ethical analysis?
   1) It is permissible by considering the sufferings and pain.
   2) It should not be permitted.
   3) Ethically debatable but can be granted on individual rights.
   4) It should be reasonably permitted.
   a. 1,2 & 3 b. 1, 3 & 4 c. only 2 d. all of these
9) Which of the following statements are right about utilitarianism?
   1) It is based on human nature.
   2) It is a major theory of consequentialism.
   3) The ethics of CAD depends on GHP factor.
   4) It is a result oriented view.
   a. 1 & 2 b. 2 & 3 c. 1, 2 & 3 d. all of these
10) What is Deontology approach?
   1) It was founded by Immanuel Kant.
   2) It is based on duties.
   3) It is based on happiness.
   4) It is based reason.
   a. 1& 2 b. 1 & 4 c. 1, 2 & 4 d. none of these

11) Why does ethics important for engineering students?
1) It is important only for leaders.
2) It develops the civic sense.
3) It develops the capacity to understand social convenience and human health.
4) It develops a sound ethical decision making.
a. 2, 3 & 4 b. 1, 3 & 4 c. only 1 d. all of these

12) When an engineer is called to be a good professional?
1) S/he has sound ethical decision making.
2) S/he has sound technological knowledge.
3) S/he has problem solving.
4) S/he has rationality and critical thinking.
a. 1 & 2 b. 2 & 3 c. 1,2 & 3 d. all of these

13) Run way trolley case is an example to develop:
1) Ethical decision making
2) Critical thinking & problem solving
3) Ethical reasoning
4) Irrational attitude
a. 1, 2 & 4 b. 1, 2 &3 c. 3& 4 d. 3 & 4

14) How does the Life-boat case differ from that of the Run-way Trolley case?
1) First is real, the second is hypothetical.
2) First is based on hypothetical conditions.
3) Second is a based hypothetical condition, first on real.
4) Both are same.
a. 1& 3 b. 1& 2 c. 1& 4 d. none of these

15) Mill's view is more proper:
1) It's based on human faculties.
2) It talks about higher pleasure.
3) It gives respect to human liberty.
4) It argues only pleasure.
a. 1, 2 & 3 b. 2 & 4 c. 1,2 & 4 d. all of these

Passage 2 (3X1=3)

Some of the recent cases relating to software gaming have been proved dangerous, deadly and dreadful to the children and the youth. Gaming industry has received unprecedented boom in the market. Almost everyone of this age is somewhat addicted to gamming. But, considering the Blue Whale and the recent Momo gaming issues which have taken many lives, the time has come when it's necessary that gaming industries must take care and adapt ethical strategies in engineering designs of the gaming software. We have to think about the overall development of the youth. Indeed, we love gaming, adventure and excitement. However, they can be enjoyed at best in a valuable sense of life and not at all at the cost of life.

16) As computer science engineering students if you design a game what you will take care?

1. Profitable gaming software.
2. Profitable but not at the cost of human harm.
3. Excitement and pleasure
4. Excitement and pleasure and care.
5. Profit, pleasure and people.

a. 1, 3, & 4 b. 2, 4 & 5 c. 1, 3 &5 d. 1, 2 , 3 , 4 & 5

17) Should we ban software Gamming?

1. Yes, it's only for excitement.
2. No, but we should be ethical in its uses.
3. Ban will be a solution.
4. Some games are good for learning and developments.
5. Some games should be banned which hurts human life.

a. 1, 4, & 5 b. 2, 3 & 4 c. only 4 & 5 d. 2, 4 & 5

18) What approach will you follow in software game designing?

1. Maximum pleasure for maximum people.
2. Maximum pleasure but life care.
3. Care ethics.
4. Only Utilitarian.
5. Kantian humanitarian spirit.

a. 1 & 4 b. 2, 3 & 5 c. 2, 3 & 4 d. 1, 2 , 3 & 4

Passage:3(3X1=3)

Life without internet, computers and smart phones is terrible to imagine. Now they are not equipments, systems and facilities but the ways of life. Everyone who has the facilities is almost fully engaged in the virtual world. And, now we are more the members of virtual society than the real. Our emotions, feelings, freedom, communications, privacy, personality, performance, publicity and existence to a great extent have occupied a center stage in the virtual space. What if all the ongoing systems, messages, videos, communications and applications get slow down then we become panic. It hurts more when we are having timelines. It happened naturally because of the internet service providers (ISPs) traffic. Internet speed is the crucial fact that enables you to enjoy your virtual life smoothly. In some countries some companies started giving additional net packages to fasten the speed. Airtel in India begin the same in 2014 and faced a huge criticism by the consumers and media. Since then in India people started talking about the Net-Neutrality. It's an ethical issue that companies should not be charging different for the internet speed and facilities. And there should not be any discrimination on that who can afford better because we all need the internet accessibility with equality. Technology should not be making differences among the people when it comes to internet facilities because they are the ways of life; necessary as basic needs in current virtual society. Facebook, what's App, You-tube, Twitter and other social networking sites those who have connected more than 500 million people in India as Internet users have framed a new world and society. And, members of the society will be highly affected if the discrimination is made. In July 2018 the TRAI passed the toughest regulations favoring the Net-Neutrality and made it clear that there cannot be any discrimination to people on internet services except special vehicles and remote surgeries. This we can understand as right to internet.

Questions:

19) Net Neutrality: Why does it matter?
1. It is supporting the virtual life.
2. Society will not be affected.
3. It will affect our freedom and mode of communications.
4. Private companies should charge with different packages.
5. Discrimination amongst the users is morally wrong.

a. 2, 4 & 5 b. 1, 3 & 5 c. 1, 2 & 3. d. 3, 4 & 5

20) "Internet speed is like blood flowing in our virtual systems." What does it mean?
1. All internet users require equal rights.
2. Differences based on special packages will affect users severely.
3. Our life at present is mostly connected with Internet systems.
4. We need to change our life and stop using smart-phones.
5. Internet dependency is a way of life in the virtual world.

a. 1, 2 & 4 b. 1, 2 & 5 c. 1, 2 , 3 & 5 d. 3, 4 & 5

21) Which of the following statements are right?
1. Airtel begun this issue in India.
2. India government has passed very weak laws on it.
3. There are more than 500 million internet users in India.
4. Discrimination is illegal.
5. Net neutrality is an ethical issue.

a. 1, 2 ,3 & 5 b. 1, 3 , 4 & 5 c. 2, 3 & 4 d. 2, 3, 4 & 5

Passage: 4 (2X1=2)

"Female ethics may be different from that of the male ethics; however, the instinct of care that is basic nature in females seems more suitable for males to facilitate their business practices. Hence, it's wrong to say that females cannot be fir for business and economic activities."

22) What is true about Care ethics model :
   1. Based on Female ethics
   2. Based on Male ethics
   3. Suitable for both
   4. Suitable only for males.

   a. 1& 3 b. 3& 4 c. only 4 d. all of these

23) What do you understand by the gender inequality in ethics?
   1. Scholars thinking that female and male values are basically different.
   2. Both have same values.
   3. Females are more fit to household activities.
   4. Only males are fit to handle business activities.
   5. Females are not meant for business activities.

   a. 1,2 & 3 b. 1, 3 ,4 & 5 c. 2 , 3 & 4 d. 1, 2, 4 & 5

Passage 5 (3X1=3)

"Normative ethics is necessary to resolve the ongoing environmental issues. In India River Ganges is most sacred in all, however, we don't care and have made it extremely polluted. This is what we call unethical and uncaring behavior, and reasonably no religion permits pollution. Hence, protecting Ganges is not possible only with governmental efforts but also requires normative ethical understanding of the common man. "For industrial utilities and religious attainments, we pollute it unreasonably without care. This river supports our Indian culture for centuries. But, unfortunately we are not showing scientific temperament to save it and respecting it above all the utilities and attainments."

24) What is normative ethical understanding to River Ganges?
   1. It's about ethical norms and practices.
   2. It's about understanding right codes of conduct.
   3. It's about understanding the use of environment.
   4. It's about caring practices to save River Ganges.
   5. It's not avoiding pollutant activities to River Ganges.

   a. 1, 2, 4 & 5 b. 1, 2 , 3 , 4 & 5 c. 1, 2 , & 4 d. 1, 2 & 5

25) What is author criticizing in the above statements?
1. Unreasonable behavior to the River.
2. Lack of Scientific temperament.
3. Utilitarian and uncaring approach.
4. Right practices to clean the River.
5. Only Religious practices.

a. 1, 2 & 3 b. 2, 3 & 4 c. 4& 5 d. 1, 2, 4 & 5

26) What are the ethical insights from the statements?
1. We can clean the river by adapting utilitarian approach.
2. Utilitarian approach is improper in this context.
3. We should be caring and reasonable to the River.
4. Everyone's participation is necessary to clean it.
5. All above.

a. 1, 2 & 3 b. 2, 3 & 4 c. 1 & 4 d. only 5

Passage: 6 (18X1=18)

What should be the ground of just distribution of resources, jobs, powers, positions and educational seats? Whether it should be on the ground of fair distribution or on the grounds of what people deserve? But what people deserve and why. According to moral desert argument people deserve according to their talent, skill and efforts. One should be prized for good and punished for the bad. It is actually what people deserve. However, the morai desert argument should be understood in contrast to the affirmative action theory by which a government usually acts positively in redressing the justice to benefit the underrepresented group in the areas of education, employment and business.

There are three prominent views on the justice and its distribution to the common people. Let's first talk about the John Rawls who in his a Theory of Justice advances a thought experiment what he calls "Original Position". It is actually a situation in veil of ignorance in which all so called self-interest seeking individuals, who are conscious and psychologically fit actors to take decisions or make choices on the benefits and developments, have no knowledge of their arbitrary facts say race, physical disability, cast, gender and class. Now once veil goes up they have to choose and decide on the better principles of justice by which a fair distribution of resources, powers and rights can be made. Rawls argues that there can be two principles seem reasonable in such a situation: 1) Equality principle, according to which each individual must be provided equal rights with the most extensive basic liberties compatible with similar liberties for others, and 2) Difference principle what he calls qualified equality principle that maintains that socio-economic inequalities have to arranged in a manner so that they are to be the greatest benefit of the least advantaged members of society. Here it seems that Rawls tries to balance his theory of justice as fairness in a way making justice to those who are talented and skilled.

Before we go to understand what Rawls actually mean by his difference principle let us try to understand three basic arguments of affirmative action theory: 1) Corrective argument; according to which a government should take positive actions to redress the wrongs of past by benefiting some cast, race, gender or group who have not been given the proper resources to develop and compete. 2) Compensatory argument which points out the fact that some advantaged groups of people have to compensate for some least advantaged groups of people who have been deprived of basic resources for development. and 3) Social Representation / Diversity argument that maintains that the different variety of groups who actually make up the whole society should be given proper and proportionate socio-political-economic representation in terms of education, job and business.

However, Rawls in his qualified equality principle argues that socio-economic inequalities in terms of government affirmative action policies and provisions must be in favor of least well-off. The second prominent view in contrast to distributive theory is Aristotelian Virtue theory in which he criticizes the Utilitarian view of justice in favor of what he calls Teleological view of justice. Aristotle asks: if you have to distribute best flutes to who would you distribute? Generally, we come with responses that we will distribute those best flutes to the needy, interested or who can use flutes at best; will deserve the best flutes. However, surprisingly, Aristotle denies these responses and says the best flutes have to be distributed to the best flute players who have the best excellence or virtues to practice the flute playing. Here, Aristotle offers his teleological explanation to his idea of justice that society is consists of different kinds of people having different virtues and people must be rewarded according to their best virtues by which they practice those virtues and merits at best to create a best society.

Thus, justice in fair distribution has got a telos or purpose to give resources and opportunities to the people so that that can create a good society by practicing their virtues. Aristotelian view really throws insight on a serious issue called reservation. A group of people who are suffering from reservation in education and job usually criticizes the other benefited groups and argue that there should not be inequalities be maintained by the governments through affirmative or positive actions. They further argue that due to reservation less qualified and skilled people get the powers and positions in governance and they produce poor quality results. But, this view is questionable on the grounds that many people of either group advantaged or non-advantaged, meritorious or less qualified are doing the same corruption in the various systems without practicing their skills or virtues. As a result, the so called merit is not serving the purpose to create a better society and most of the people those who are getting opportunity and resources are utilizing and exploiting their powers and positions. Nevertheless, the reservation given in the name of cast, and other arbitrary facts (Moral Luck): which are only by chance and not chosen by any individual is really poses a moral problem of forced discrimination. Therefore, the reservation policies must be in Rawlsian terms be based on qualified equality principle serving the least well-off to really improve the socio-economic condition of less advantaged people. The third prominent view offers a criticism of both the Rawlsian and Aristotelian views of justice. The third view advocates individual rights theory and of against active roles of government in fair distribution of resources. Immanuel Kant and Robert Nozick are the two main philosophers who actually defend the theory of rights and liberty of people. Immanuel Kant argues that individuals have rationality to decide their better off and thereby they must be given autonomy to choose their own ideas of good life. We should not lead by any purpose to create a better society; rather a better society will automatically come when the individuals will be given basic liberties and rights with a sense of autonomy. On the other hand, Robert Nozick rejects the active roles of governments and strong forms of affirmative action theories. He argues that government roles should be limited to the security and protection of people. There should not be any paternalistic legislation, moral legislation, and wealth re-distribution through taxation. It is in this way a government should not intervene in individuals' lives and should not limit their choices relating to education, job, business and life as a whole. The first two views and the third view in contrast get impression of a tussle between the Fit versus freedom. Rawls and Aristotle argue about the fitness of the principles and virtues, while Nozick and Kant defend the rights and freedom of individuals.

27) What is moral desert?

1. It is according to what people deserve.
2. Moral desert is about fair discrimination.
3. Justice is to reward good and punish the bad.
4. Moral desert put emphasis on one's skill and efforts.

a. 1, 2 & 3 b. 1, 3 & 4 c. 2, 3 & 4 d. 1& 4

28) Who deserve the best flutes?

1. Those who can play flutes at best.
2. Those who are best flute players.
3. Those who need them.
4. Those who fulfill the purpose of flute playing.

a. 3 & 4 b. 1, 3 & 4 c. 2, 3 & 4 d. 1, 2 & 4

29) Which of the following statements are right about the veil of ignorance?
1. It is a thought experiment.
2. People know about their cast, class and gender in this experiment.
3. In this experiment people are known to their arbitrary facts.
4. People are in their original position.
5. It balances the inequal background.
a. 1, 4 & 5 b. 2, 3, 4 & 5 c. 3, 4 & 5 d. All of these

30) What is false about Affirmative Action Theory?
1. A government should not take positive actions to redress the wrongs of past.
2. Socio-economic inequalities should not be based on arbitrary facts.
3. Advantaged groups and un-advantaged both groups should be given equal start.
4. The different variety of groups should be given proper representation.
a. 2, 3 & 4 b. 1, 2 & 3 c. 1, 2 & 4 d. Only 4

31) What is wrong about teleological view of justice?
1. Each virtue has a utility.
2. it's to create a fair society.
3. it's to create a better society.
4. Justice is purposive.
5. it's defended by John Rawls
a. 1, 2 & 5 b. 1, 2 & 3 c. only 1& 5 d. 1, 2 & 4

32) What is wrong about the reservation?
1. Reservation should be given for the people in creamy layer.
2. Reservation should be based on casts.
3. Reservation should not be for vote politics
4. Reservation should help the people who are from poor economic condition.
a. 1, 3 & 4 b. 1, 2 & 4 c. 2, 3 & 4 d. 1& 2

33) Why does Robert Nozick criticize the affirmative action theory?
1. Because a government is wrong in making discrimination.
2. Because a government should intervene in individuals lives.
3. A government should not limit the choices relating to education, job, business and life as a whole.
4. Everyone should be given equal start without reservation.
5. Reservation is fair.
a. 1, 3 & 4 b. 1, 2 ,3 & 5 c. 2, 3, 4 & 5 d. All of these

34) Why does Kant criticize the Teleological Virtue Theory?
1. Because we should not lead by any purpose to create a better society.
2. Because Kant defends the moral desert.
3. Individuals' rationality can decide their better off.

4. Kant defends the freedom and criticizes the fitness view.
a. 1, 2 & 3 b. 2, 3 & 4 c. 1, 3 & 4 d. 1, 2 , 3 & 4

35) What is the corrective argument?
1. It is correcting the past wrongs.
2. It is favoring the reservation.
3. It is to give advantage to some disadvantaged people.
4. It is an affirmative action by the government.
5. It's view against the merit.
a. 1& 4 b. 2, 3 & 4 c. 1, 2 & 3 d. 1, 2 , 3, 4, & 5

36) What is difference principle given by Rawls?
1. It is a principle of qualified equality.
2. It is to justify the talent and skills in society.
3. According to this principle socio-economic inequalities to be accepted for least well-off.
4. It is for the fairness in society.
a. Only 1 & 2 b. 1, 2 & 3 c. 1, 2 , 3 & 4 d. only 3 &4

37) What is insight on corruption from Aristotelian view of Justice?
1. Both talented and reserved category people are doing corruption.
2. Talented people are right in corruption.
3. Talented people are also not creating better society.
4. Merit is not only for getting fair educational seat or job.
a. 1, 3 & 4 b. 2 & 4 c. 2, 3 & 4 d. None of these

38) "Corruption starts from the class room." What you can conclude by this statement?
1. Active thinking.
2. Coping assignments is wrong.
3. Engineering is not only for job.
4. Lectures are not for attendance only.
5. Active participation in learning.
a. 1, 2, 3 & 5 b. 2, 3, & 4 c. 1, 2, & 3, d. 4 & 5

39). What is the argument from social representation?
1. It is giving compensation for past wrong.
2. it's for maintaining a variety of groups.
3. it's for maintaining merit.
4. It is giving representation to diversified groups.
5. It is giving equal representation.
a. 1, 2 & 3 b. 1, 2 , 4 & 5 c. 2 & 4 d. 2, 3 , 4 & 5

40) What's wrong about the compensatory argument?
1. Disadvantaged group will compensate for disadvantaged.
2. Disadvantaged group will compensate for advantaged.
3. Advantaged will compensate for disadvantaged.
4. Privileged will do for deprived.
5. Unprivileged will compensate for privileged.

a. 1, 2, 3 & 4 b. 1, 2, & 5 c. 3, 4 & 5 d. 1, 2, 3, 4 & 5

41) What is a tussle between the Fit versus Freedom?
1. Some scholars defend merit and reject fairness.
2. Some scholars respect the freedom and dismiss the fitness.
3. Libertarians reject the virtue theory.
4. Kantian accepts the virtue theory.
5. Rawls disqualify the principle of moral desert.

a. 1, 2, 3 & 4 b. 3, 4 & 5 c. 1, 4 & 5 d. 1, 2, 3 & 5

42) What are the two principles of Justice by John Rawls?
1. Equal rights and liberties.
2. Principle of qualified difference.
3. Principle of equal difference
4. More rights and liberties to Rich people.
5. More rights & liberties to least people.

a. 1, 4 & 5 b. 1, 2 & 3 c. only 1 & 2 d. 1, 2, 4 & 5

43) Which of the following statements are wrong about Robert Nozick?
1. He advocates Active role of government.
2. He favors affirmative action.
3. He rejects taxation.
4. He favors moral legislation.
5. He objects paternalistic laws.

a. 1, 2, 3 & 4 b. 1, 4 & 5 c. 3, 4 & 5 d. 1, 2 & 4

44) What is the difference between the Moral Luck & Moral Credit?
1. Moral luck is that we determine.
2. Moral credit is based on efforts.
3. Moral luck is arbitrary.
4. Moral credit is by chance.
5. Moral credit is not arbitrary.

a. 1, 2 & 3 b. 3, 4 &5 c. 2, 3 & 5 d. 1, 2, 3, 4 & 5

Passage: 7 (1X6=6)

To ask whether a society is just is to ask how it distributes the things we prize- income and wealth, duties and rights, powers and opportunities, offices and honors. A just society distributes these goods in the right way: it gives each person what s/he deserves. It cares for the social welfare and also for individual freedom & rights. It honors the virtues and respects the moral persons. There basically are three different approaches to understand the justice in society: Welfare approach, Freedom & Rights approach and the Virtue approach. Each of these ideals suggests a different way of thinking about justice.

Libertarians disagree on this point and argue that we must not violate anyone's rights—even if doing so would increase overall happiness. According to libertarians, the greatest threat to individual rights comes from the government. You should be able to drive without a seat belt if you want. The government should not fine you. That is unacceptably paternalist. It undermines one's risk-taking ability. And if you want to use drugs or engage in unconventional behavior, you should be free to do so, provided you don't violate anyone else's rights in the process. The government has no business passing moralistic legislation. It shouldn't tell you how to live your life. Most important, the government should never tax for redistributive purposes. Redistributive taxation is theft. Taking your earnings and giving it to other people is like forcing you to work for those people. Libertarians say it's almost like slavery. Libertarians make strong claims.

Kant holds the view that rationality is the goal of morality; unlike the libertarians, Kant denies that freedom consists in doing whatever one wants. Kant thinks that morality is a kind of universal law which everyone has to obey. Therefore, he thinks it must be the case that everyone could obey it. This is his test for morality. According to Kant, your action is moral only if you acted on a maxim that is universalizable- which you can will to become a universal law. Morality of an action depends on whether it was done with this sense of duty, or not.

Questions:

45) Which of the following statements are false about the Libertarians?

1. We must violate anyone's rights.
2. The greatest threat to individual rights comes from the government.
3. Individual liberty is dependent on maximizing happiness in the society.
4. A government should pass moral legislation for the individuals.
5. We can harm both ourselves and others.

a. 1, 3, 4&5 b.1, 2&3 c. 2, 3&4 d. 1&4

46) "Someone taking drugs or engaging oneself in deviant wrong practices should be free to do so, if he or she does not violate anyone's rights in the process". Why would Kant criticize the above statement?

1. Individual liberty to act on something should not be based on desire satisfaction.
2. Individual rights are not grounded in human nature.
3. By harming one's life through wrong practices; we do not treat humanity as an end in itself.
4. We should satisfy our desires.
5. It's matter of individual freedom & desires.

a. 1,2, 3 & 5 b. 1, 4 & 5 c. 1,2,& 3 d. All of these

47) What is just society?

1. A society that respects only discrimination.
2. It gives each person what s/he deserves.
3. It respects the virtues.
4. It cares for the ideals of welfare, freedom and virtues.
5. It only respects the weak.

a. 1 & 5 b. 4 c. 1& 4 d. 4& 5

48) "You should be able to drive without a seat belt if you want. The government should not fine you. That is unacceptably paternalist". What you can conclude from the above statement?

1. Government should not make paternalistic laws.
2. Paternalistic laws restrict our freedom.
3. Such laws do not respect ownership of the person.
4. Such laws are necessary for freedom.
5. They undermine our risk-taking ability.

a. 1 & 2 b. 3&4 c. 1, 2&3 d. 1, 2, 3 & 5

49) Which of the following statements are right about the Kantian system of morality?

1. Morality is Universal.
2. Desire satisfaction is the goal of morality.
3. Morality is to discover moral law through reason.
4. Morality is to be motivated by a sense of duty.
5. Rationality gives freedom

a. 2, 3&4 b. 1&2 c. 1,2&3 d. 1,3, 4 & 5

50) A Maxim cannot be a Moral Law if:

1. It's universalizable.
2. It's based on my rationality.
3. It satisfies my purpose.
4. It's based on my desire.
5. It's based on sense of duty.

a. 2, 3 & 4 b. 1, 2 & 3 c. 1, 2, 3 & 4 d. 1, 2, 3 , 4 & 5

Passage 1 (15X1= 15)

Ethics offer a kind of learning to an engineer to develop professional personality that s/he must possess in order to develop civic sense and create a better society. An engineer needs ethical personality governed by reasons to justify the technological developments for the society. Here, comes the idea of an ethical attitude that further develops a kind of professional personality to understand the interdependence of society, environment and technology. And, a good engineer has to justify developments by making a good balance of the above three dimensions.

Commenting, in the same context, about the engineering domain; we can say we need to justify the engineering advancements with social convenience and human health. A technology has to be engineered to secure the two factors and justifying the reasons to be good for humans. There are two kinds of basic needs that an engineer requires in order to be called a good professional: 1) Sound Technological Knowledge and 2) Sound Ethical Decision making. The first is developed by engineering and the second is fulfilled by the ethics. Let's talk about ethical decision making (hereafter: EDM). And before we talk about the EDM lets try to understand about the ethics and ethical analysis. Ethics offers an explanation to the three basic questions. First, what is good and bad? Second, what is right and wrong? Third, what ought to be done and what ought not to be done? Ethics is a critical inquiry into the first order of morality. And, the first order of morality is the way a society evolves through mores (rituals, rules and norms) to regulate the people. Morality varies with different societies and times. In ethical discourse we examine the morality by raising questions to understand the reasons and we also analyze the matter in question by using the science and technological views. Moreover, we assess the matter by taking the other possible point of views. We consider the approach of individual rights and liberties, and social welfare. Let's take an example to understand about the ethical analysis and its ingredients. Euthanasia (mercy-killing) is the issue where most of the societies do not give permission to a person to take assisted suicide. However, ethically analyzing the matter we understand that when science recommends a person who is suffering from a terminal disease and cannot survive longer. The person who has been suffering from immense pain cannot be satisfied with the moral only that we have got a duty to live. This is the reason why the issues becomes highly debatable in ethical analysis and carrying the recommendation of science, the sufferer's point of view and his individual rights such cases sometimes allow for mercy-killing. The purpose of ethical analysis is to develop a sound professional personality by nurturing the rationality. It is the capacity to understand the matters in the light of reasons and not by the emotions. Sometimes given with the abundance of reasons it becomes difficult to choose the right and relevant one. There, we need the critical thinking to settle down the right line of actions in a given time and situations. With these two abilities we develop a sort of problem-solving that makes our actions more practical and easy-going without confusions and indecisiveness. Problem-solving leads to the active life. And, when these three abilities take place in one's professional attitude it gives birth to a sound decision making in a person to lead a better life and to create a better world to live.

Thus Ethical Decision Making is composed of the ability to engage in ethical discourse with rationality, critical thinking, problem solving and decision making to analyze the life issues (problems of one's personal life, social life, and professional life). Runway trolley case is one of the examples to understand the point. Moreover, there are three different approaches to handle the problems in a wider sense:1) Consequentialist approach, 2) Non-consequentialist approach , and 3) Virtue based approach. Consequentialist approach put emphasis on the results of the choices, actions and decisions (hereafter; CAD). This we have analyzed in the Life-boat case. Jeremy Bentham founded the theory namely, Utilitarianism. According to this theory we should decide about the ethics of any CAD on the grounds of utility and utility by the goodness, happiness and pleasures. The GHP factor becomes guideline for the positive cases, while in negative cases we should minimize the pain and unhappiness. This theory claims to be universal account of morality. It is naturalistic as it is derived from the human nature that people desire happiness and pleasure and they avoid sadness and pains. However, Mill's approach is more balanced and reasonably based on human faculties

On the other hand, the non-consequentialist approach maintains that the ethics of any CAD must be governed by the very nature of rules, principles and morals. This system was originally developed by Immanuel Kant and he calls it the Deontological system. This approach takes into account the two important aspects:1) Rationality and 2) the Sense of duty. We must act on our duties. And, the duties must be mutually satisfied by the two human capacities; they are rationality and autonomy (freedom). This theory claims to be universal account of morality like the utilitarianism. But, it's not naturalistic as it is based on human rationality and not grounded in the human experiences and emotions.

Questions:

1) The consequentialist approach put emphasis on:
   1) The sense of duty
   2) The result of an action
   3) The GHP
   4) The utility
   5) Individual feelings
   a. 1& 4, b. only 1& 5 c. 1,2, 3 & 5 d. 2,3&4
2) What is true about the problem solving?
   1) It develops analytical mind.
   2) It is developed through rationality and critical thinking.
   3) It makes our actions more confusing.
   4) It removes confusions and indecisiveness.
   5) Its need of engineering
   a. 1, 2 & 3 b. 1,2,4,& 5 c. only 1& 3 d. all of these
3) Which of the following statements are not right about ethics?
   1) It is study without reasons.
   2) It is a study of science.
   3) It is a critical study.
   4) It is a study of right and wrong.
   a. 1& 2 b 3& 4 c. only 2 d. none of these
4) Why do we need ethics in engineering?
   1) It is to understand the interdependence of society, environment and technology.
   2) It is needed to create a better professional.
   3) It develops an ethical attitude to justify the developments.
   4) It is to make engineering more profitable.
   a. 1, 2 & 4 b. 1,2& 3 c 3& 4 d. all of these

5) What are the dissimilarities between the utilitarianism and deontology?
   1) Both offer a guideline to human CAD.
   2) Both claim to be universal account of morality.
   3) One minds result, while other duty.
   4) One cares happiness, while other reason.
   5) One cares pleasure, while other pain.
   a. 1& 4 &5 b. 2& 4& 5 c. 3& 4 d. 1&2 & 5
6) What is ethical analysis (ethical discourse)?
   1) It is analyzing the matter in the light of scientific reasons.
   2) It is analyzing the matter through critical questioning.
   3) It is clarifying the matter through different point of views.
   4) In this we consider the individual rights and liberties.
   a. 1& 2 b. only 1c. 3& 4 d. all of these
7) What is EDM?
   1) It is handling the life problems with rationality and critical thinking.
   2) It is ethical decision making.
   3) It is problem solving with sound decision making.
   4) It is consequentialist reasoning.
   a. 1,2&3 b. 3& 4 c. 2,3&4 d. none of these
8) What can we conclude about the euthanasia under ethical analysis?
   1) It is permissible by considering the sufferings and pain.
   2) It should not be permitted.
   3) Ethically debatable but can be granted on individual rights.
   4) It should be reasonably permitted.
   a. 1,2 & 3 b. 1, 3 & 4 c. only 2 d. all of these
9) Which of the following statements are right about utilitarianism?
   1) It is based on human nature.
   2) It is a major theory of consequentialism.
   3) The ethics of CAD depends on GHP factor.
   4) It is a result oriented view.
   a. 1 & 2 b. 2 & 3 c. 1, 2 & 3 d. all of these
10) What is Deontology approach?
   1) It was founded by Immanuel Kant.
   2) It is based on duties.
   3) It is based on happiness.
   4) It is based reason.
   a. 1& 2 b. 1 & 4 c. 1, 2 & 4 d. none of these

11) Why does ethics important for engineering students?
1) It is important only for leaders.
2) It develops the civic sense.
3) It develops the capacity to understand social convenience and human health.
4) It develops a sound ethical decision making.
a. 2, 3 & 4 b. 1, 3 & 4 c. only 1 d. all of these

12) When an engineer is called to be a good professional?
1) S/he has sound ethical decision making.
2) S/he has sound technological knowledge.
3) S/he has problem solving.
4) S/he has rationality and critical thinking.
a. 1 & 2 b. 2 & 3 c. 1,2 & 3 d. all of these

13) Run way trolley case is an example to develop:
1) Ethical decision making
2) Critical thinking & problem solving
3) Ethical reasoning
4) Irrational attitude
a. 1, 2 & 4 b. 1, 2 &3 c. 3& 4 d. 3 & 4

14) How does the Life-boat case differ from that of the Run-way Trolley case?
1) First is real, the second is hypothetical.
2) First is based on hypothetical conditions.
3) Second is a based hypothetical condition, first on real.
4) Both are same.
a. 1& 3 b. 1& 2 c. 1& 4 d. none of these

15) Mill's view is more proper:
1) It's based on human faculties.
2) It talks about higher pleasure.
3) It gives respect to human liberty.
4) It argues only pleasure.
a. 1, 2 & 3 b. 2 & 4 c. 1,2 & 4 d. all of these

Passage: 2 (18X1=18)

What should be the ground of just distribution of resources, jobs, powers, positions and educational seats? Whether it should be on the ground of fair distribution or on the grounds of what people deserve? But what people deserve and why. According to moral desert argument people deserve according to their talent, skill and efforts. One should be prized for good and punished for the bad. It is actually what people deserve. However, the moral desert argument should be understood in contrast to the affirmative action theory by which a government usually acts positively in redressing the justice to benefit the underrepresented group in the areas of education, employment and business.

There are three prominent views on the justice and its distribution to the common people. Let's first talk about the John Rawls who in his a Theory of Justice advances a thought experiment what he calls "Original Position". It is actually a situation in veil of ignorance in which all so called self-interest seeking individuals, who are conscious and psychologically fit actors to take decisions or make choices on the benefits and developments, have no knowledge of their arbitrary facts say race, physical disability, cast, gender and class. Now once veil goes up they have to choose and decide on the better principles of justice by which a fair distribution of resources, powers and rights can be made. Rawls argues that there can be two principles seem reasonable in such a situation: 1) Equality principle, according to which each individual must be provided equal rights with the most extensive basic liberties compatible with similar liberties for others, and 2) Difference principle what he calls qualified equality principle that maintains that socio-economic inequalities have to arranged in a manner so that they are to be the greatest benefit of the least advantaged members of society. Here it seems that Rawls tries to balance his theory of justice as fairness in a way making justice to those who are talented and skilled.

Before we go to understand what Rawls actually mean by his difference principle let us try to understand three basic arguments of affirmative action theory: 1) Corrective argument; according to which a government should take positive actions to redress the wrongs of past by benefiting some cast, race, gender or group who have not been given the proper resources to develop and compete, 2) Compensatory argument which points out the fact that some advantaged groups of people have to compensate for some least advantaged groups of people who have been deprived of basic resources for development, and 3) Social Representation / Diversity argument that maintains that the different variety of groups who actually make up the whole society should be given proper and proportionate socio-political-economic representation in terms of education, job and business.
However, Rawls in his qualified equality principle argues that socio-economic inequalities in terms of government affirmative action policies and provisions must be in favor of least well-off The second prominent view in contrast to distributive theory is Aristotelian Virtue theory in which he criticizes the Utilitarian view of justice in favor of what he calls Teleological view of justice. Aristotle asks: if you have to distribute best flutes to who would you distribute? Generally, we come with responses that we will distribute those best flutes to the needy, interested or who can use flutes at best; will deserve the best flutes. However, surprisingly, Aristotle denies these responses and says the best flutes have to be distributed to the best flute players who have the best excellence or virtues to practice the flute playing. Here, Aristotle offers his teleological explanation to his idea of justice that society is consists of different kinds of people having different virtues and people must be rewarded according to their best virtues by which they practice those virtues and merits at best to create a best society.

Thus, justice in fair distribution has got a telos or purpose to give resources and opportunities to the people so that that can create a good society by practicing their virtues. Aristotelian view really throws insight on a serious issue called reservation. A group of people who are suffering from reservation in education and job usually criticizes the other benefited groups and argue that there should not be inequalities be maintained by the governments through affirmative or positive actions. They further argue that due to reservation less qualified and skilled people get the powers and positions in governance and they produce poor quality results. But, this view is questionable on the grounds that many people of either group advantaged or non-advantaged, meritorious or less qualified are doing the same corruption in the various systems without practicing their skills or virtues. As a result, the so called merit is not serving the purpose to create a better society and most of the people those who are getting opportunity and resources are utilizing and exploiting their powers and positions. Nevertheless, the reservation given in the name of cast, and other arbitrary facts (Moral Luck): which are only by chance and not chosen by any individual is really poses a moral problem of forced discrimination. Therefore, the reservation policies must be in Rawlsian terms be based on qualified equality principle serving the least well-off to really improve the socio-economic condition of less advantaged people.

The third prominent view offers a criticism of both the Rawlsian and Aristotelian views of justice. The third view advocates individual rights theory and of against active roles of government in fair distribution of resources. Immanuel Kant and Robert Nozick are the two main philosophers who actually defend the theory of rights and liberty of people. Immanuel Kant argues that individuals have rationality to decide their better off and thereby they must be given autonomy to choose their own ideas of good life. We should not lead by any purpose to create a better society; rather a better society will automatically come when the individuals will be given basic liberties and rights with a sense of autonomy. On the other hand, Robert Nozick rejects the active roles of governments and strong forms of affirmative action theories. He argues that government roles should be limited to the security and protection of people. There should not be any paternalistic legislation, moral legislation, and wealth re-distribution through taxation. It is in this way a government should not intervene in individuals' lives and should not limit their choices relating to education, job, business and life as a whole. The first two views and the third view in contrast get impression of a tussle between the Fit versus freedom. Rawls and Aristotle argue about the fitness of the principles and virtues, while Nozick and Kant defend the rights and freedom of individuals.

16) What is moral desert?
1. It is according to what people deserve.
2. Moral desert is about fair discrimination.
3. Justice is to reward good and punish the bad.
4. Moral desert put emphasis on one's skill and efforts.
a. 1, 2 & 3 b. 1, 3 & 4 c. 2, 3 & 4 d. 1& 4

17) Who deserve the best flutes?
1. Those who can play flutes at best.
2. Those who are best flute players.
3. Those who need them.
4. Those who fulfill the purpose of flute playing.
a. 3 & 4 b. 1, 3 & 4 c. 2, 3 & 4 d. 1, 2 & 4

18) Which of the following statements are right about the veil of ignorance?
1. It is a thought experiment.
2. People know about their cast, class and gender in this experiment.
3. In this experiment people are known to their arbitrary facts.
4. People are in their original position.
5. It balances the inequal background.
a. 1, 4 & 5 b. 2, 3, 4 & 5 c. 3, 4 & 5 d. All of these

19) What is false about Affirmative Action Theory?
1. A government should not take positive actions to redress the wrongs of past.
2. Socio-economic inequalities should not be based on arbitrary facts.
3. Advantaged groups and un-advantaged both groups should be given equal start.
4. The different variety of groups should be given proper representation.
a. 2, 3 & 4 b. 1, 2 & 3 c. 1, 2 & 4 d. Only 4

20) What is wrong about teleological view of justice?
1. Each virtue has a utility.
2. it's to create a fair society.
3. it's to create a better society.
4. Justice is purposive.
5. it's defended by John Rawls
a. 1, 2 & 5 b. 1, 2 & 3 c. only 1& 5 d. 1, 2 & 4

21) What is wrong about the reservation?
1. Reservation should be given for the people in creamy layer.
2. Reservation should be based on casts.
3. Reservation should not be for vote politics
4. Reservation should help the people who are from poor economic condition.
a. 1, 3 & 4 b. 1. 2 & 4 c. 2. 3 & 4 d. 1& 2

22) Why does Robert Nozick criticize the affirmative action theory?
1. Because a government is wrong in making discrimination.

2. Talented people are right in corruption.
3. Talented people are also not creating better society.
4. Merit is not only for getting fair educational seat or job.
a. 1, 3 & 4 b. 2 & 4 c. 2, 3 & 4 d. None of these

B

27) "Corruption starts from the class room." What you can conclude by this statement?
1. Active thinking.
2. Coping assignments is wrong.
3. Engineering is not only for job.
4. Lectures are not for attendance only.
5. Active participation in learning.

a. 1, 2, 3 & 5 b. 2, 3, & 4 c. 1, 2, & 3, d. 4 & 5

28). What is the argument from social representation?
1. It is giving compensation for past wrong.
2. it's for maintaining a variety of groups.
3. it's for maintaining merit.
4. It is giving representation to diversified groups.
5. It is giving equal representation.

a. 1, 2 & 3 b. 1, 2 , 4 & 5 c. 2 & 4 d. 2, 3 , 4 & 5

29) What's wrong about the compensatory argument?
1. Disadvantaged group will compensate for disadvantaged.
2. Disadvantaged group will compensate for advantaged.
3. Advantaged will compensate for disadvantaged.
4. Privileged will do for deprived.
5. Unprivileged will compensate for privileged.

a. 1, 2 , 3 & 4 b. 1, 2 , & 5 c. 3, 4 & 5 d. 1, 2 , 3 , 4 & 5

30) What is a tussle between the Fit versus Freedom?
1. Some scholars defend merit and reject fairness.
2. Some scholars respect the freedom and dismiss the fitness.
3. Libertarians reject the virtue theory.
4. Kantian accepts the virtue theory.
5. Rawls disqualify the principle of moral desert.

a. 1, 2 , 3 & 4 b. 3 , 4 & 5 c. 1, 4 & 5 d. 1, 2 , 3 & 5

31) What are the two principles of Justice by John Rawls?
1. Equal rights and liberties.
2. Principle of qualified difference.
3. Principle of equal difference
4. More rights and liberties to Rich people.
5. More rights & liberties to least people.

a. 1, 4 & 5 b. 1, 2 & 3 c. only 1 & 2 d. 1, 2 , 4 & 5

32) Which of the following statements are wrong about Robert Nozick?
1. He advocates Active role of government.
2. He favors affirmative action.
3. He rejects taxation.

4. He favors moral legislation.
5. He objects paternalistic laws.

a. 1, 2, 3 & 4 b. 1, 4 & 5 c. 3, 4 & 5 d. 1, 2 & 4

33) What is the difference between the Moral Luck & Moral Credit?

1. Moral luck is that we determine.
2. Moral credit is based on efforts.
3. Moral luck is arbitrary.
4. Moral credit is by chance.
5. Moral credit is not arbitrary.

a. 1, 2 & 3 b. 3, 4 &5 c. 2, 3 & 5 d. 1, 2 , 3 , 4 & 5

Passage: 3 (1X6=6)

To ask whether a society is just is to ask how it distributes the things we prize- income and wealth, duties and rights, powers and opportunities, offices and honors. A just society distributes these goods in the right way: it gives each person what s/he deserves. It cares for the social welfare and also for individual freedom & rights. It honors the virtues and respects the moral persons. There basically are three different approaches to understand the justice in society: Welfare approach, Freedom & Rights approach and the Virtue approach. Each of these ideals suggests a different way of thinking about justice.

Libertarians disagree on this point and argue that we must not violate anyone's rights—even if doing so would increase overall happiness. According to libertarians, the greatest threat to individual rights comes from the government. You should be able to drive without a seat belt if you want. The government should not fine you. That is unacceptably paternalist. It undermines one's risk-taking ability. And if you want to use drugs or engage in unconventional behavior, you should be free to do so, provided you don't violate anyone else's rights in the process. The government has no business passing moralistic legislation. It shouldn't tell you how to live your life. Most important, the government should never tax for redistributive purposes. Redistributive taxation is theft. Taking your earnings and giving it to other people is like forcing you to work for those people. Libertarians say it's almost like slavery. Libertarians make strong claims.

Kant holds the view that rationality is the goal of morality; unlike the libertarians, Kant denies that freedom consists in doing whatever one wants. Kant thinks that morality is a kind of universal law which everyone has to obey. Therefore, he thinks it must be the case that everyone could obey it. This is his test for morality. According to Kant, your action is moral only if you acted on a maxim that is universalizable- which you can will to become a universal law. Morality of an action depends on whether it was done with this sense of duty, or not.

Questions:

B

34) Which of the following statements are false about the Libertarians?

1. We must violate anyone's rights.
2. The greatest threat to individual rights comes from the government.
3. Individual liberty is dependent on maximizing happiness in the society.
4. A government should pass moral legislation for the individuals.
5. We can harm both ourselves and others.

a. 1, 3, 4&5 b.1, 2&3 c. 2, 3&4 d. 1&4

35) "Someone taking drugs or engaging oneself in deviant wrong practices should be free to do so, if he or she does not violate anyone's rights in the process". Why would Kant criticize the above statement?

1. Individual liberty to act on something should not be based on desire satisfaction.
2. Individual rights are not grounded in human nature.
3. By harming one's life through wrong practices; we do not treat humanity as an end in itself.
4. We should satisfy our desires.
5. It's matter of individual freedom & desires.

a. 1,2, 3 & 5 b. 1, 4 & 5 c. 1,2,& 3 d. All of these

36) What is just society?

1. A society that respects only discrimination.
2. It gives each person what s/he deserves.
3. It respects the virtues.
4. It cares for the ideals of welfare, freedom and virtues.
5. It only respects the weak.

a. 1 & 5 b. 4 c. 1& 4 d. 4& 5

37) "You should be able to drive without a seat belt if you want. The government should not fine you. That is unacceptably paternalist". What you can conclude from the above statement?

1. Government should not make paternalistic laws.
2. Paternalistic laws restrict our freedom.
3. Such laws do not respect ownership of the person.
4. Such laws are necessary for freedom.
5. They undermine our risk-taking ability.

a. 1 & 2 b. 3&4 c. 1, 2&3 d. 1, 2, 3 & 5

38) Which of the following statements are right about the Kantian system of morality?

1. Morality is Universal.
2. Desire satisfaction is the goal of morality.
3. Morality is to discover moral law through reason.

4. Morality is to be motivated by a sense of duty.
5. Rationality gives freedom

a. 2, 3&4 b. 1&2 c. 1,2&3 d. 1,3, 4 & 5

39) A Maxim cannot be a Moral Law if:

1. It's universalizable.
2. It's based on my rationality.
3. It satisfies my purpose.
4. It's based on my desire.
5. It's based on sense of duty.

a. 2, 3 & 4 b. 1, 2 & 3 c. 1, 2, 3 & 4 d. 1, 2, 3 , 4 & 5

Following small passages will test your general ethical aptitude based on the course of Ethics and Values.

Passage 4 (3X1=3)

Some of the recent cases relating to software gaming have been proved dangerous, deadly and dreadful to the children and the youth. Gaming industry has received unprecedented boom in the market. Almost everyone of this age is somewhat addicted to gamming. But, considering the Blue Whale and the recent Momo gaming issues which have taken many lives, the time has come when it's necessary that gaming industries must take care and adapt ethical strategies in engineering designs of the gaming software. We have to think about the overall development of the youth. Indeed, we love gaming, adventure and excitement. However, they can be enjoyed at best in a valuable sense of life and not at all at the cost of life.

40) As computer science engineering students if you design a game what you will take care?

1. Profitable gaming software.
2. Profitable but not at the cost of human harm.
3. Excitement and pleasure
4. Excitement and pleasure and care.
5. Profit, pleasure and people.

a. 1, 3, & 4 b. 2, 4 & 5 c. 1, 3 &5 d. 1, 2 , 3 , 4 & 5

41) Should we ban software Gamming?

1. Yes, it's only for excitement.
2. No, but we should be ethical in its uses.
3. Ban will be a solution.
4. Some games are good for learning and developments.
5. Some games should be banned which hurts human life.

a. 1, 4, & 5 b. 2, 3 & 4 c. only 4 & 5 d. 2, 4 & 5

B

42) What approach will you follow in software game designing?

1. Maximum pleasure for maximum people.
2. Maximum pleasure but life care.
3. Care ethics.
4. Only Utilitarian.
5. Kantian humanitarian spirit.

a. 1 & 4 b. 2, 3 & 5 c. 2, 3 & 4 d. 1, 2 , 3 & 4

Passage:5(3X1=3)

Life without internet, computers and smart phones is terrible to imagine. Now they are not equipments, systems and facilities but the ways of life. Everyone who has the facilities is almost fully engaged in the virtual world. And, now we are more the members of virtual society than the real. Our emotions, feelings, freedom, communications, privacy, personality, performance, publicity and existence to a great extent have occupied a center stage in the virtual space. What if all the ongoing systems, messages, videos, communications and applications get slow down then we become panic. It hurts more when we are having timelines. It happened naturally because of the internet service providers (ISPs) traffic. Internet speed is the crucial fact that enables you to enjoy your virtual life smoothly. In some countries some companies started giving additional net packages to fasten the speed. Airtel in India begin the same in 2014 and faced a huge criticism by the consumers and media. Since then in India people started talking about the Net-Neutrality. It's an ethical issue that companies should not be charging different for the internet speed and facilities. And there should not be any discrimination on that who can afford better because we all need the internet accessibility with equality. Technology should not be making differences among the people when it comes to internet facilities because they are the ways of life; necessary as basic needs in current virtual society. Facebook, what's App, You-tube, Twitter and other social networking sites those who have connected more than 500 million people in India as Internet users have framed a new world and society. And, members of the society will be highly affected if the discrimination is made. In July 2018 the TRAI passed the toughest regulations favoring the Net-Neutrality and made it clear that there cannot be any discrimination to people on internet services except special vehicles and remote surgeries. This we can understand as right to internet.

Questions:

43) Net Neutrality: Why does it matter?

1. It is supporting the virtual life.
2. Society will not be affected.
3. It will affect our freedom and mode of communications.
4. Private companies should charge with different packages.
5. Discrimination amongst the users is morally wrong.

a. 2, 4 & 5 b. 1, 3 & 5 c. 1, 2 & 3. d. 3, 4 & 5

44) "Internet speed is like blood flowing in our virtual systems." What does it mean?
1. All internet users require equal rights.
2. Differences based on special packages will affect users severely.
3. Our life at present is mostly connected with Internet systems.
4. We need to change our life and stop using smart-phones.
5. Internet dependency is a way of life in the virtual world.

a. 1, 2 & 4 b. 1, 2 & 5 c. 1, 2 , 3 & 5 d. 3, 4 & 5

45) Which of the following statements are right?
1. Airtel begun this issue in India.
2. India government has passed very weak laws on it.
3. There are more than 500 million internet users in India.
4. Discrimination is illegal.
5. Net neutrality is an ethical issue.

a. 1, 2 ,3 & 5 b. 1, 3 , 4 & 5 c. 2, 3 & 4 d. 2, 3, 4 & 5

Passage: 6 (2X1=2)

"Female ethics may be different from that of the male ethics; however, the instinct of care that is basic nature in females seems more suitable for males to facilitate their business practices. Hence, it's wrong to say that females cannot be fir for business and economic activities."

46) What is true about Care ethics model :
1. Based on Female ethics
2. Based on Male ethics
3. Suitable for both
4. Suitable only for males.

a. 1& 3 b. 3& 4 c. only 4 d. all of these

47) What do you understand by the gender inequality in ethics?
1. Scholars thinking that female and male values are basically different.
2. Both have same values.
3. Females are more fit to household activities.
4. Only males are fit to handle business activities.
5. Females are not meant for business activities.

a. 1,2 & 3 b. 1, 3 ,4 & 5 c. 2 , 3 & 4 d. 1, 2, 4 & 5

B

Passage 7 (3X1=3)

"Normative ethics is necessary to resolve the ongoing environmental issues. In India River Ganges is most sacred in all, however, we don't care and have made it extremely polluted. This is what we call unethical and uncaring behavior, and reasonably no religion permits pollution. Hence, protecting Ganges is not possible only with governmental efforts but also requires normative ethical understanding of the common man. "For industrial utilities and religious attainments, we pollute it unreasonably without care. This river supports our Indian culture for centuries. But, unfortunately we are not showing scientific temperament to save it and respecting it above all the utilities and attainments."

48) What is normative ethical understanding to River Ganges?

1. It's about ethical norms and practices.
2. It's about understanding right codes of conduct.
3. It's about understanding the use of environment.
4. It's about caring practices to save River Ganges.
5. It's not avoiding pollutant activities to River Ganges.

a. 1, 2, 4 & 5 b. 1, 2 , 3 , 4 & 5 c. 1, 2 , & 4 d. 1, 2 & 5

49) What is author criticizing in the above statements?

1. Unreasonable behavior to the River.
2. Lack of Scientific temperament.
3. Utilitarian and uncaring approach.
4. Right practices to clean the River.
5. Only Religious practices.

a. 1, 2 & 3 b. 2 , 3 & 4 c. 4& 5 d. 1, 2 , 4 & 5

50) What are the ethical insights from the statements?

1. We can clean the river by adapting utilitarian approach.
2. Utilitarian approach is improper in this context.
3. We should be caring and reasonable to the River.
4. Everyone's participation is necessary to clean it.
5. All above.

a. 1, 2 & 3 b. 2, 3 & 4 c. 1 & 4 d. only 5

Passage 1 (15X1= 15)

Ethics offer a kind of learning to an engineer to develop professional personality that s/he must possess in order to develop civic sense and create a better society. An engineer needs ethical personality governed by reasons to justify the technological developments for the society. Here, comes the idea of an ethical attitude that further develops a kind of professional personality to understand the interdependence of society, environment and technology. And, a good engineer has to justify developments by making a good balance of the above three dimensions.

Commenting, in the same context, about the engineering domain; we can say we need to justify the engineering advancements with social convenience and human health. A technology has to be engineered to secure the two factors and justifying the reasons to be good for humans. There are two kinds of basic needs that an engineer requires in order to be called a good professional: 1) Sound Technological Knowledge and 2) Sound Ethical Decision making. The first is developed by engineering and the second is fulfilled by the ethics. Let's talk about ethical decision making (hereafter: EDM). And before we talk about the EDM lets try to understand about the ethics and ethical analysis. Ethics offers an explanation to the three basic questions. First, what is good and bad? Second, what is right and wrong? Third, what ought to be done and what ought not to be done? Ethics is a critical inquiry into the first order of morality. And, the first order of morality is the way a society evolves through mores (rituals, rules and norms) to regulate the people. Morality varies with different societies and times. In ethical discourse we examine the morality by raising questions to understand the reasons and we also analyze the matter in question by using the science and technological views. Moreover, we assess the matter by taking the other possible point of views. We consider the approach of individual rights and liberties, and social welfare. Let's take an example to understand about the ethical analysis and its ingredients. Euthanasia (mercy-killing) is the issue where most of the societies do not give permission to a person to take assisted suicide. However, ethically analyzing the matter we understand that when science recommends a person who is suffering from a terminal disease and cannot survive longer. The person who has been suffering from immense pain cannot be satisfied with the moral only that we have got a duty to live. This is the reason why the issues becomes highly debatable in ethical analysis and carrying the recommendation of science, the sufferer's point of view and his individual rights such cases sometimes allow for mercy-killing. The purpose of ethical analysis is to develop a sound professional personality by nurturing the rationality. It is the capacity to understand the matters in the light of reasons and not by the emotions. Sometimes given with the abundance of reasons it becomes difficult to choose the right and relevant one. There, we need the critical thinking to settle down the right line of actions in a given time and situations. With these two abilities we develop a sort of problem-solving that makes our actions more practical and easy-going without confusions and indecisiveness. Problem-solving leads to the active life. And, when these three abilities take place in one's professional attitude it gives birth to a sound decision making in a person to lead a better life and to create a better world to live.

Thus Ethical Decision Making is composed of the ability to engage in ethical discourse with rationality, critical thinking, problem solving and decision making to analyze the life issues (problems of one's personal life, social life, and professional life). Runway trolley case is one of the examples to understand the point. Moreover, there are three different approaches to handle the problems in a wider sense:1) Consequentialist approach, 2) Non-consequentialist approach , and 3) Virtue based approach. Consequentialist approach put emphasis on the results of the choices, actions and decisions (hereafter; CAD). This we have analyzed in the Life-boat case. Jeremy Bentham founded the theory namely, Utilitarianism. According to this theory we should decide about the ethics of any CAD on the grounds of utility and utility by the goodness, happiness and pleasures. The GHP factor becomes guideline for the positive cases, while in negative cases we should minimize the pain and unhappiness. This theory claims to be universal account of morality. It is naturalistic as it is derived from the human nature that people desire happiness and pleasure and they avoid sadness and pains. However, Mill's approach is more balanced and reasonably based on human faculties

On the other hand, the non-consequentialist approach maintains that the ethics of any CAD must be governed by the very nature of rules, principles and morals. This system was originally developed by Immanuel Kant and he calls it the Deontological system. This approach takes into account the two important aspects:1) Rationality and 2) the Sense of duty. We must act on our duties. And, the duties must be mutually satisfied by the two human capacities; they are rationality and autonomy (freedom). This theory claims to be universal account of morality like the utilitarianism. But, it's not naturalistic as it is based on human rationality and not grounded in the human experiences and emotions.

Questions:

1) The consequentialist approach put emphasis on:
   1) The sense of duty
   2) The result of an action
   3) The GHP
   4) The utility
   5) Individual feelings

   a. 1& 4, b. only 1& 5 c. 1,2, 3 & 5 d. 2,3&4
2) What is true about the problem solving?
   1) It develops analytical mind.
   2) It is developed through rationality and critical thinking.
   3) It makes our actions more confusing.
   4) It removes confusions and indecisiveness.
   5) Its need of engineering

   a. 1, 2 & 3 b. 1,2,4,& 5 c. only 1& 3 d. all of these
3) Which of the following statements are not right about ethics?
   1) It is study without reasons.
   2) It is a study of science.
   3) It is a critical study.
   4) It is a study of right and wrong.

   a. 1& 2 b 3& 4 c. only 2 d. none of these
4) Why do we need ethics in engineering?
   1) It is to understand the interdependence of society, environment and technology.
   2) It is needed to create a better professional.
   3) It develops an ethical attitude to justify the developments.
   4) It is to make engineering more profitable.

   a. 1, 2 & 4 b. 1,2& 3 c 3& 4 d. all of these

C

5) What are the dissimilarities between the utilitarianism and deontology?
   1) Both offer a guideline to human CAD.
   2) Both claim to be universal account of morality.
   3) One minds result, while other duty.
   4) One cares happiness, while other reason.
   5) One cares pleasure, while other pain.
   a. 1& 4 &5 b. 2& 4& 5 c. 3& 4 d. 1&2 & 5
6) What is ethical analysis (ethical discourse)?
   1) It is analyzing the matter in the light of scientific reasons.
   2) It is analyzing the matter through critical questioning.
   3) It is clarifying the matter through different point of views.
   4) In this we consider the individual rights and liberties.
   a. 1& 2 b. only 1c. 3& 4 d. all of these
7) What is EDM?
   1) It is handling the life problems with rationality and critical thinking.
   2) It is ethical decision making.
   3) It is problem solving with sound decision making.
   4) It is consequentialist reasoning.
   a. 1,2&3 b. 3& 4 c. 2,3&4 d. none of these
8) What can we conclude about the euthanasia under ethical analysis?
   1) It is permissible by considering the sufferings and pain.
   2) It should not be permitted.
   3) Ethically debatable but can be granted on individual rights.
   4) It should be reasonably permitted.
   a. 1,2 & 3 b. 1, 3 & 4 c. only 2 d. all of these
9) Which of the following statements are right about utilitarianism?
   1) It is based on human nature.
   2) It is a major theory of consequentialism.
   3) The ethics of CAD depends on GHP factor.
   4) It is a result oriented view.
   a. 1 & 2 b. 2 & 3 c. 1, 2 & 3 d. all of these
10) What is Deontology approach?
   1) It was founded by Immanuel Kant.
   2) It is based on duties.
   3) It is based on happiness.
   4) It is based reason.
   a. 1& 2 b. 1 & 4 c. 1, 2 & 4 d. none of these

11) Why does ethics important for engineering students?
1) It is important only for leaders.
2) It develops the civic sense.
3) It develops the capacity to understand social convenience and human health.
4) It develops a sound ethical decision making.
a. 2, 3 & 4 b. 1, 3 & 4 c. only 1 d. all of these

12) When an engineer is called to be a good professional?
1) S/he has sound ethical decision making.
2) S/he has sound technological knowledge.
3) S/he has problem solving.
4) S/he has rationality and critical thinking.
a. 1 & 2 b. 2 & 3 c. 1,2 & 3 d. all of these

13) Run way trolley case is an example to develop:
1) Ethical decision making
2) Critical thinking & problem solving
3) Ethical reasoning
4) Irrational attitude
a. 1, 2 & 4 b. 1, 2 &3 c. 3& 4 d. 3 & 4

14) How does the Life-boat case differ from that of the Run-way Trolley case?
1) First is real, the second is hypothetical.
2) First is based on hypothetical conditions.
3) Second is a based hypothetical condition, first on real.
4) Both are same.
a. 1& 3 b. 1& 2 c. 1& 4 d. none of these

15) Mill's view is more proper:
1) It's based on human faculties.
2) It talks about higher pleasure.
3) It gives respect to human liberty.
4) It argues only pleasure.
a. 1, 2 & 3 b. 2 & 4 c. 1,2 & 4 d. all of these

Some of the recent cases relating to software gaming have been proved dangerous, deadly and dreadful to the children and the youth. Gaming industry has received unprecedented boom in the market. Almost everyone of this age is somewhat addicted to gamming. But, considering the Blue Whale and the recent Momo gaming issues which have taken many lives, the time has come when it's necessary that gaming industries must take care and adapt ethical strategies in engineering designs of the gaming software. We have to think about the overall development of the youth. Indeed, we love gaming, adventure and excitement. However, they can be enjoyed at best in a valuable sense of life and not at all at the cost of life.

16) As computer science engineering students if you design a game what you will take care?

1. Profitable gaming software.
2. Profitable but not at the cost of human harm.
3. Excitement and pleasure
4. Excitement and pleasure and care.
5. Profit, pleasure and people.

a. 1, 3, & 4 b. 2, 4 & 5 c. 1, 3 &5 d. 1, 2 , 3 , 4 & 5

17) Should we ban software Gamming?

1. Yes, it's only for excitement.
2. No, but we should be ethical in its uses.
3. Ban will be a solution.
4. Some games are good for learning and developments.
5. Some games should be banned which hurts human life.

a. 1, 4, & 5 b. 2, 3 & 4 c. only 4 & 5 d. 2, 4 & 5

18) What approach will you follow in software game designing?

1. Maximum pleasure for maximum people.
2. Maximum pleasure but life care.
3. Care ethics.
4. Only Utilitarian.
5. Kantian humanitarian spirit.

a. 1 & 4 b. 2, 3 & 5 c. 2, 3 & 4 d. 1, 2 , 3 & 4

Passage:3(3X1=3)

Life without internet, computers and smart phones is terrible to imagine. Now they are not equipments, systems and facilities but the ways of life. Everyone who has the facilities is almost fully engaged in the virtual world. And, now we are more the members of virtual society than the real. Our emotions, feelings, freedom, communications, privacy, personality, performance, publicity and existence to a great extent have occupied a center stage in the virtual space. What if all the ongoing systems, messages, videos, communications and applications get slow down then we become panic. It hurts more when we are having timelines. It happened naturally because of the internet service providers (ISPs) traffic. Internet speed is the crucial fact that enables you to enjoy your virtual life smoothly. In some countries some companies started giving additional net packages to fasten the speed. Airtel in India begin the same in 2014 and faced a huge criticism by the consumers and media. Since then in India people started talking about the Net-Neutrality. It's an ethical issue that companies should not be charging different for the internet speed and facilities. And there should not be any discrimination on that who can afford better because we all need the internet accessibility with equality. Technology should not be making differences among the people when it comes to internet facilities because they are the ways of life; necessary as basic needs in current virtual society. Facebook, what's App, You-tube, Twitter and other social networking sites those who have connected more than 500 million people in India as Internet users have framed a new world and society. And, members of the society will be highly affected if the discrimination is made. In July 2018 the TRAI passed the toughest regulations favoring the Net-Neutrality and made it clear that there cannot be any discrimination to people on internet services except special vehicles and remote surgeries. This we can understand as right to internet.

Questions:

19) Net Neutrality: Why does it matter?
1. It is supporting the virtual life.
2. Society will not be affected.
3. It will affect our freedom and mode of communications.
4. Private companies should charge with different packages.
5. Discrimination amongst the users is morally wrong.

a. 2, 4 & 5 b. 1, 3 & 5 c. 1, 2 & 3. d. 3, 4 & 5

20) "Internet speed is like blood flowing in our virtual systems." What does it mean?
1. All internet users require equal rights.
2. Differences based on special packages will affect users severely.
3. Our life at present is mostly connected with Internet systems.
4. We need to change our life and stop using smart-phones.
5. Internet dependency is a way of life in the virtual world.

a. 1, 2 & 4 b. 1, 2 & 5 c. 1, 2 , 3 & 5 d. 3, 4 & 5

21) Which of the following statements are right?
1. Airtel begun this issue in India.
2. India government has passed very weak laws on it.
3. There are more than 500 million internet users in India.
4. Discrimination is illegal.
5. Net neutrality is an ethical issue.

a. 1, 2 ,3 & 5 b. 1, 3 , 4 & 5 c. 2, 3 & 4 d. 2, 3, 4 & 5

(C)

Passage: 4 (2X1=2)

"Female ethics may be different from that of the male ethics; however, the instinct of care that is basic nature in females seems more suitable for males to facilitate their business practices. Hence, it's wrong to say that females cannot be fir for business and economic activities."

22) What is true about Care ethics model :
   1. Based on Female ethics
   2. Based on Male ethics
   3. Suitable for both
   4. Suitable only for males.

   a. 1& 3 b. 3& 4 c. only 4 d. all of these

23) What do you understand by the gender inequality in ethics?
   1. Scholars thinking that female and male values are basically different.
   2. Both have same values.
   3. Females are more fit to household activities.
   4. Only males are fit to handle business activities.
   5. Females are not meant for business activities.

   a. 1,2 & 3 b. 1, 3 ,4 & 5 c. 2 , 3 & 4 d. 1, 2, 4 & 5

Passage 5 (3X1=3)

"Normative ethics is necessary to resolve the ongoing environmental issues. In India River Ganges is most sacred in all, however, we don't care and have made it extremely polluted. This is what we call unethical and uncaring behavior, and reasonably no religion permits pollution. Hence, protecting Ganges is not possible only with governmental efforts but also requires normative ethical understanding of the common man. "For industrial utilities and religious attainments, we pollute it unreasonably without care. This river supports our Indian culture for centuries. But, unfortunately we are not showing scientific temperament to save it and respecting it above all the utilities and attainments."

24) What is normative ethical understanding to River Ganges?
   1. It's about ethical norms and practices.
   2. It's about understanding right codes of conduct.
   3. It's about understanding the use of environment.
   4. It's about caring practices to save River Ganges.
   5. It's not avoiding pollutant activities to River Ganges.

   a. 1, 2, 4 & 5 b. 1, 2 , 3 , 4 & 5 c. 1, 2 , & 4 d. 1, 2 & 5

25) What is author criticizing in the above statements?
1. Unreasonable behavior to the River.
2. Lack of Scientific temperament.
3. Utilitarian and uncaring approach.
4. Right practices to clean the River.
5. Only Religious practices.

a. 1, 2 & 3 b. 2, 3 & 4 c. 4& 5 d. 1, 2, 4 & 5

26) What are the ethical insights from the statements?
1. We can clean the river by adapting utilitarian approach.
2. Utilitarian approach is improper in this context.
3. We should be caring and reasonable to the River.
4. Everyone's participation is necessary to clean it.
5. All above.

a. 1, 2 & 3 b. 2, 3 & 4 c. 1 & 4 d. only 5

Passage: 6 (1X6=6)

To ask whether a society is just is to ask how it distributes the things we prize-income and wealth, duties and rights, powers and opportunities, offices and honors. A just society distributes these goods in the right way: it gives each person what s/he deserves. It cares for the social welfare and also for individual freedom & rights. It honors the virtues and respects the moral persons. There basically are three different approaches to understand the justice in society: Welfare approach. Freedom & Rights approach and the Virtue approach. Each of these ideals suggests a different way of thinking about justice.

Libertarians disagree on this point and argue that we must not violate anyone's rights—even if doing so would increase overall happiness. According to libertarians, the greatest threat to individual rights comes from the government. You should be able to drive without a seat belt if you want. The government should not fine you. That is unacceptably paternalist. It undermines one's risk-taking ability. And if you want to use drugs or engage in unconventional behavior, you should be free to do so, provided you don't violate anyone else's rights in the process. The government has no business passing moralistic legislation. It shouldn't tell you how to live your life. Most important, the government should never tax for redistributive purposes. Redistributive taxation is theft. Taking your earnings and giving it to other people is like forcing you to work for those people. Libertarians say it's almost like slavery. Libertarians make strong claims.

Kant holds the view that rationality is the goal of morality; unlike the libertarians, Kant denies that freedom consists in doing whatever one wants. Kant thinks that morality is a kind of universal law which everyone has to obey. Therefore, he thinks it must be the case that everyone could obey it. This is his test for morality.

According to Kant, your action is moral only if you acted on a maxim that is universalizable- which you can will to become a universal law. Morality of an action depends on whether it was done with this sense of duty, or not.

Questions:

27) Which of the following statements are false about the Libertarians?

1. We must violate anyone's rights.
2. The greatest threat to individual rights comes from the government.
3. Individual liberty is dependent on maximizing happiness in the society.
4. A government should pass moral legislation for the individuals.
5. We can harm both ourselves and others.

a. 1, 3, 4&5 b.1, 2&3 c. 2, 3&4 d. 1&4

28) "Someone taking drugs or engaging oneself in deviant wrong practices should be free to do so, if he or she does not violate anyone's rights in the process". Why would Kant criticize the above statement?

1. Individual liberty to act on something should not be based on desire satisfaction.
2. Individual rights are not grounded in human nature.
3. By harming one's life through wrong practices; we do not treat humanity as an end in itself.
4. We should satisfy our desires.
5. It's matter of individual freedom & desires.

a. 1,2, 3 & 5 b. 1, 4 & 5 c. 1,2,& 3 d. All of these

29) What is just society?

1. A society that respects only discrimination.
2. It gives each person what s/he deserves.
3. It respects the virtues.
4. It cares for the ideals of welfare, freedom and virtues.
5. It only respects the weak.

a. 1 & 5 b. 4 c. 1& 4 d. 4& 5

30) "You should be able to drive without a seat belt if you want. The government should not fine you. That is unacceptably paternalist". What you can conclude from the above statement?

1. Government should not make paternalistic laws.
2. Paternalistic laws restrict our freedom.
3. Such laws do not respect ownership of the person.
4. Such laws are necessary for freedom.
5. They undermine our risk-taking ability.

a. 1 & 2 b. 3&4 c. 1, 2&3 d. 1, 2, 3 & 5

31) Which of the following statements are right about the Kantian system of morality?

1. Morality is Universal.
2. Desire satisfaction is the goal of morality.
3. Morality is to discover moral law through reason.
4. Morality is to be motivated by a sense of duty.
5. Rationality gives freedom

a. 2, 3&4 b. 1&2 c. 1,2&3 d. 1,3, 4 & 5

32) A Maxim cannot be a Moral Law if:

1. It's universalizable.
2. It's based on my rationality.
3. It satisfies my purpose.
4. It's based on my desire.
5. It's based on sense of duty.

a. 2, 3 & 4 b. 1, 2 & 3 c. 1, 2, 3 & 4 d. 1, 2, 3 , 4 & 5

Passage: 7 (18X1=18)

What should be the ground of just distribution of resources, jobs, powers, positions and educational seats? Whether it should be on the ground of fair distribution or on the grounds of what people deserve? But what people deserve and why. According to moral desert argument people deserve according to their talent, skill and efforts. One should be prized for good and punished for the bad. It is actually what people deserve. However, the moral desert argument should be understood in contrast to the affirmative action theory by which a government usually acts positively in redressing the justice to benefit the underrepresented group in the areas of education, employment and business.

There are three prominent views on the justice and its distribution to the common people. Let's first talk about the John Rawls who in his a Theory of Justice advances a thought experiment what he calls "Original Position". It is actually a situation in veil of ignorance in which all so called self-interest seeking individuals, who are conscious and psychologically fit actors to take decisions or make choices on the benefits and developments, have no knowledge of their arbitrary facts say race, physical disability, cast, gender and class. Now once veil goes up they have to choose and decide on the better principles of justice by which a fair distribution of resources, powers and rights can be made. Rawls argues that there can be two principles seem reasonable in such a situation: 1) Equality principle, according to which each individual must be provided equal rights with the most extensive basic liberties compatible with similar liberties for others, and 2) Difference principle what he calls qualified equality principle that maintains that socio-economic inequalities have to arranged in a manner so that they are to be the greatest benefit of the least advantaged members of society. Here it seems that Rawls tries to balance his theory of justice as fairness in a way making justice to those who are talented and skilled.

Before we go to understand what Rawls actually mean by his difference principle let us try to understand three basic arguments of affirmative action theory: 1) Corrective argument; according to which a government should take positive actions to redress the wrongs of past by benefiting some cast, race, gender or group who have not been given the proper resources to develop and compete, 2) Compensatory argument which points out the fact that some advantaged groups of people have to compensate for some least advantaged groups of people who have been deprived of basic resources for development, and 3) Social Representation / Diversity argument that maintains that the different variety of groups who actually make up the whole society should be given proper and proportionate socio-political-economic representation in terms of education, job and business.

However, Rawls in his qualified equality principle argues that socio-economic inequalities in terms of government affirmative action policies and provisions must be in favor of least well-off. The second prominent view in contrast to distributive theory is Aristotelian Virtue theory in which he criticizes the Utilitarian view of justice in favor of what he calls Teleological view of justice. Aristotle asks: if you have to distribute best flutes to who would you distribute? Generally, we come with responses that we will distribute those best flutes to the needy, interested or who can use flutes at best; will deserve the best flutes. However, surprisingly, Aristotle denies these responses and says the best flutes have to be distributed to the best flute players who have the best excellence or virtues to practice the flute playing. Here, Aristotle offers his teleological explanation to his idea of justice that society is consists of different kinds of people having different virtues and people must be rewarded according to their best virtues by which they practice those virtues and merits at best to create a best society.

Thus, justice in fair distribution has got a telos or purpose to give resources and opportunities to the people so that that can create a good society by practicing their virtues. Aristotelian view really throws insight on a serious issue called reservation. A group of people who are suffering from reservation in education and job usually criticizes the other benefited groups and argue that there should not be inequalities be maintained by the governments through affirmative or positive actions. They further argue that due to reservation less qualified and skilled people get the powers and positions in governance and they produce poor quality results. But, this view is questionable on the grounds that many people of either group advantaged or non-advantaged, meritorious or less qualified are doing the same corruption in the various systems without practicing their skills or virtues. As a result, the so called merit is not serving the purpose to create a better society and most of the people those who are getting opportunity and resources are utilizing and exploiting their powers and positions. Nevertheless, the reservation given in the name of cast, and other arbitrary facts (Moral Luck): which are only by chance and not chosen by any individual is really poses a moral problem of forced discrimination. Therefore, the reservation policies must be in Rawlsian terms be based on qualified equality principle serving the least well-off to really improve the socio-economic condition of less advantaged people. The third prominent view offers a criticism of both the Rawlsian and Aristotelian views of justice. The third view advocates individual rights theory and of against active roles of government in fair distribution of resources. Immanuel Kant and Robert Nozick are the two main philosophers who actually defend the theory of rights and liberty of people. Immanuel Kant argues that individuals have rationality to decide their better off and thereby they must be given autonomy to choose their own ideas of good life. We should not lead by any purpose to create a better society; rather a better society will automatically come when the individuals will be given basic liberties and rights with a sense of autonomy. On the other hand, Robert Nozick rejects the active roles of governments and strong forms of affirmative action theories. He argues that government roles should be limited to the security and protection of people. There should not be any paternalistic legislation, moral legislation, and wealth re-distribution through taxation. It is in this way a government should not intervene in individuals' lives and should not limit their choices relating to education, job, business and life as a whole. The first two views and the third view in contrast get impression of a tussle between the Fit versus freedom. Rawls and Aristotle argue about the fitness of the principles and virtues, while Nozick and Kant defend the rights and freedom of individuals.

33) What is moral desert?

1. It is according to what people deserve.
2. Moral desert is about fair discrimination.
3. Justice is to reward good and punish the bad.
4. Moral desert put emphasis on one's skill and efforts.

a. 1, 2 & 3 b. 1, 3 & 4 c. 2, 3 & 4 d. 1& 4

34) Who deserve the best flutes?

1. Those who can play flutes at best.
2. Those who are best flute players.
3. Those who need them.
4. Those who fulfill the purpose of flute playing.

a. 3 & 4 b. 1, 3 & 4 c. 2, 3 & 4 d. 1, 2 & 4

C

35) Which of the following statements are right about the veil of ignorance?

1. It is a thought experiment.
2. People know about their cast, class and gender in this experiment.
3. In this experiment people are known to their arbitrary facts.
4. People are in their original position.
5. It balances the inequal background.

a. 1, 4 & 5 b. 2, 3, 4 & 5 c. 3, 4 & 5 d. All of these

36) What is false about Affirmative Action Theory?

1. A government should not take positive actions to redress the wrongs of past.
2. Socio-economic inequalities should not be based on arbitrary facts.
3. Advantaged groups and un-advantaged both groups should be given equal start.
4. The different variety of groups should be given proper representation.

a. 2, 3 & 4 b. 1, 2 & 3 c. 1, 2 & 4 d. Only 4

37) What is wrong about teleological view of justice?

1. Each virtue has a utility.
2. it's to create a fair society.
3. it's to create a better society.
4. Justice is purposive.
5. it's defended by John Rawls

a. 1, 2 & 5 b. 1, 2 & 3 c. only 1& 5 d. 1, 2 & 4

38) What is wrong about the reservation?

1. Reservation should be given for the people in creamy layer.
2. Reservation should be based on casts.
3. Reservation should not be for vote politics
4. Reservation should help the people who are from poor economic condition.

a. 1, 3 & 4 b. 1, 2 & 4 c. 2, 3 & 4 d. 1& 2

39) Why does Robert Nozick criticize the affirmative action theory?

1. Because a government is wrong in making discrimination.
2. Because a government should intervene in individuals lives.
3. A government should not limit the choices relating to education, job, business and life as a whole.
4. Everyone should be given equal start without reservation.
5. Reservation is fair.

a. 1, 3 & 4 b. 1, 2 ,3 & 5 c. 2, 3, 4 & 5 d. All of these

40) Why does Kant criticize the Teleological Virtue Theory?
1. Because we should not lead by any purpose to create a better society.
2. Because Kant defends the moral desert.
3. Individuals' rationality can decide their better off.
4. Kant defends the freedom and criticizes the fitness view.
a. 1, 2 & 3 b. 2, 3 & 4 c. 1, 3 & 4 d. 1, 2 , 3 & 4

41) What is the corrective argument?
1. It is correcting the past wrongs.
2. It is favoring the reservation.
3. It is to give advantage to some disadvantaged people.
4. It is an affirmative action by the government.
5. It's view against the merit.
a. 1& 4 b. 2, 3 & 4 c. 1, 2 & 3 d. 1, 2 , 3, 4, & 5

42) What is difference principle given by Rawls?
1. It is a principle of qualified equality.
2. It is to justify the talent and skills in society.
3. According to this principle socio-economic inequalities to be accepted for least well-off.
4. It is for the fairness in society.
a. Only 1 & 2 b. 1, 2 & 3 c. 1, 2 , 3 & 4 d. only 3 &4

43) What is insight on corruption from Aristotelian view of Justice?
1. Both talented and reserved category people are doing corruption.
2. Talented people are right in corruption.
3. Talented people are also not creating better society.
4. Merit is not only for getting fair educational seat or job.
a. 1, 3 & 4 b. 2 & 4 c. 2, 3 & 4 d. None of these

44) "Corruption starts from the class room." What you can conclude by this statement?
1. Active thinking.
2. Coping assignments is wrong.
3. Engineering is not only for job.
4. Lectures are not for attendance only.
5. Active participation in learning.
a. 1, 2, 3 & 5 b. 2, 3, & 4 c. 1, 2, & 3, d. 4 & 5

45). What is the argument from social representation?
1. It is giving compensation for past wrong.
2. it's for maintaining a variety of groups.
3. it's for maintaining merit.
4. It is giving representation to diversified groups.
5. It is giving equal representation.
a. 1, 2 & 3 b. 1, 2 , 4 & 5 c. 2 & 4 d. 2, 3 , 4 & 5

C

46) What's wrong about the compensatory argument?
1. Disadvantaged group will compensate for disadvantaged.
2. Disadvantaged group will compensate for advantaged.
3. Advantaged will compensate for disadvantaged.
4. Privileged will do for deprived.
5. Unprivileged will compensate for privileged.

a. 1, 2 , 3 & 4 b. 1, 2 , & 5 c. 3, 4 & 5 d. 1, 2 , 3 , 4 & 5

47) What is a tussle between the Fit versus Freedom?
1. Some scholars defend merit and reject fairness.
2. Some scholars respect the freedom and dismiss the fitness.
3. Libertarians reject the virtue theory.
4. Kantian accepts the virtue theory.
5. Rawls disqualify the principle of moral desert.

a. 1, 2 , 3 & 4 b. 3 , 4 & 5 c. 1, 4 & 5 d. 1, 2 , 3 & 5

48) What are the two principles of Justice by John Rawls?
1. Equal rights and liberties.
2. Principle of qualified difference.
3. Principle of equal difference
4. More rights and liberties to Rich people.
5. More rights & liberties to least people.

a. 1, 4 & 5 b. 1, 2 & 3 c. only 1 & 2 d. 1, 2 , 4 & 5

49) Which of the following statements are wrong about Robert Nozick?
1. He advocates Active role of government.
2. He favors affirmative action.
3. He rejects taxation.
4. He favors moral legislation.
5. He objects paternalistic laws.

a. 1, 2, 3 & 4 b. 1, 4 & 5 c. 3, 4 & 5 d. 1, 2 & 4

50) What is the difference between the Moral Luck & Moral Credit?
1. Moral luck is that we determine.
2. Moral credit is based on efforts.
3. Moral luck is arbitrary.
4. Moral credit is by chance.
5. Moral credit is not arbitrary.

a. 1, 2 & 3 b. 3, 4 &5 c. 2, 3 & 5 d. 1, 2 , 3 , 4 & 5

Passage 1 (15X1= 15)

Ethics offer a kind of learning to an engineer to develop professional personality that s/he must possess in order to develop civic sense and create a better society. An engineer needs ethical personality governed by reasons to justify the technological developments for the society. Here, comes the idea of an ethical attitude that further develops a kind of professional personality to understand the interdependence of society, environment and technology. And, a good engineer has to justify developments by making a good balance of the above three dimensions.

Commenting, in the same context, about the engineering domain; we can say we need to justify the engineering advancements with social convenience and human health. A technology has to be engineered to secure the two factors and justifying the reasons to be good for humans. There are two kinds of basic needs that an engineer requires in order to be called a good professional: 1) Sound Technological Knowledge and 2) Sound Ethical Decision making. The first is developed by engineering and the second is fulfilled by the ethics. Let's talk about ethical decision making (hereafter: EDM). And before we talk about the EDM lets try to understand about the ethics and ethical analysis. Ethics offers an explanation to the three basic questions. First, what is good and bad? Second, what is right and wrong? Third, what ought to be done and what ought not to be done? Ethics is a critical inquiry into the first order of morality. And, the first order of morality is the way a society evolves through mores (rituals, rules and norms) to regulate the people. Morality varies with different societies and times. In ethical discourse we examine the morality by raising questions to understand the reasons and we also analyze the matter in question by using the science and technological views. Moreover, we assess the matter by taking the other possible point of views. We consider the approach of individual rights and liberties, and social welfare. Let's take an example to understand about the ethical analysis and its ingredients. Euthanasia (mercy-killing) is the issue where most of the societies do not give permission to a person to take assisted suicide. However, ethically analyzing the matter we understand that when science recommends a person who is suffering from a terminal disease and cannot survive longer. The person who has been suffering from immense pain cannot be satisfied with the moral only that we have got a duty to live. This is the reason why the issues becomes highly debatable in ethical analysis and carrying the recommendation of science, the sufferer's point of view and his individual rights such cases sometimes allow for mercy-killing. The purpose of ethical analysis is to develop a sound professional personality by nurturing the rationality. It is the capacity to understand the matters in the light of reasons and not by the emotions. Sometimes given with the abundance of reasons it becomes difficult to choose the right and relevant one. There, we need the critical thinking to settle down the right line of actions in a given time and situations. With these two abilities we develop a sort of problem-solving that makes our actions more practical and easy-going without confusions and indecisiveness. Problem-solving leads to the active life. And, when these three abilities take place in one's professional attitude it gives birth to a sound decision making in a person to lead a better life and to create a better world to live.

Thus Ethical Decision Making is composed of the ability to engage in ethical discourse with rationality, critical thinking, problem solving and decision making to analyze the life issues (problems of one's personal life, social life, and professional life). Runway trolley case is one of the examples to understand the point. Moreover, there are three different approaches to handle the problems in a wider sense:1) Consequentialist approach, 2) Non-consequentialist approach , and 3) Virtue based approach. Consequentialist approach put emphasis on the results of the choices, actions and decisions (hereafter; CAD). This we have analyzed in the Life-boat case. Jeremy Bentham founded the theory namely, Utilitarianism. According to this theory we should decide about the ethics of any CAD on the grounds of utility and utility by the goodness, happiness and pleasures. The GHP factor becomes guideline for the positive cases, while in negative cases we should minimize the pain and unhappiness. This theory claims to be universal account of morality. It is naturalistic as it is derived from the human nature that people desire happiness and pleasure and they avoid sadness and pains. However, Mill's approach is more balanced and reasonably based on human faculties

On the other hand, the non-consequentialist approach maintains that the ethics of any CAD must be governed by the very nature of rules, principles and morals. This system was originally developed by Immanuel Kant and he calls it the Deontological system. This approach takes into account the two important aspects:1) Rationality and 2) the Sense of duty. We must act on our duties. And, the duties must be mutually satisfied by the two human capacities; they are rationality and autonomy (freedom). This theory claims to be universal account of morality like the utilitarianism. But, it's not naturalistic as it is based on human rationality and not grounded in the human experiences and emotions.

Questions:

1) The consequentialist approach put emphasis on:
   1) The sense of duty
   2) The result of an action
   3) The GHP
   4) The utility
   5) Individual feelings

   a. 1& 4, b. only 1& 5 c. 1,2, 3 & 5 d. 2,3&4
2) What is true about the problem solving?
   1) It develops analytical mind.
   2) It is developed through rationality and critical thinking.
   3) It makes our actions more confusing.
   4) It removes confusions and indecisiveness.
   5) Its need of engineering

   a. 1, 2 & 3 b. 1,2,4,& 5 c. only 1& 3 d. all of these
3) Which of the following statements are not right about ethics?
   1) It is study without reasons.
   2) It is a study of science.
   3) It is a critical study.
   4) It is a study of right and wrong.

   a. 1& 2 b 3& 4 c. only 2 d. none of these
4) Why do we need ethics in engineering?
   1) It is to understand the interdependence of society, environment and technology.
   2) It is needed to create a better professional.
   3) It develops an ethical attitude to justify the developments.
   4) It is to make engineering more profitable.

   a. 1, 2 & 4 b. 1,2& 3 c 3& 4 d. all of these

D

5) What are the dissimilarities between the utilitarianism and deontology?
   1) Both offer a guideline to human CAD.
   2) Both claim to be universal account of morality.
   3) One minds result, while other duty.
   4) One cares happiness, while other reason.
   5) One cares pleasure, while other pain.
   a. 1& 4 &5 b. 2& 4& 5 c. 3& 4 d. 1&2 & 5
6) What is ethical analysis (ethical discourse)?
   1) It is analyzing the matter in the light of scientific reasons.
   2) It is analyzing the matter through critical questioning.
   3) It is clarifying the matter through different point of views.
   4) In this we consider the individual rights and liberties.
   a. 1& 2 b. only 1c. 3& 4 d. all of these
7) What is EDM?
   1) It is handling the life problems with rationality and critical thinking.
   2) It is ethical decision making.
   3) It is problem solving with sound decision making.
   4) It is consequentialist reasoning.
   a. 1,2&3 b. 3& 4 c. 2,3& 4 d. none of these
8) What can we conclude about the euthanasia under ethical analysis?
   1) It is permissible by considering the sufferings and pain.
   2) It should not be permitted.
   3) Ethically debatable but can be granted on individual rights.
   4) It should be reasonably permitted.
   a. 1,2 & 3 b. 1, 3 & 4 c. only 2 d. all of these
9) Which of the following statements are right about utilitarianism?
   1) It is based on human nature.
   2) It is a major theory of consequentialism.
   3) The ethics of CAD depends on GHP factor.
   4) It is a result oriented view.
   a. 1 & 2 b. 2 & 3 c. 1, 2 & 3 d. all of these
10) What is Deontology approach?
   1) It was founded by Immanuel Kant.
   2) It is based on duties.
   3) It is based on happiness.
   4) It is based reason.
   a. 1& 2 b. 1 & 4 c. 1, 2 & 4 d. none of these

11) Why does ethics important for engineering students?
    1) It is important only for leaders.
    2) It develops the civic sense.
    3) It develops the capacity to understand social convenience and human health.
    4) It develops a sound ethical decision making.
    a. 2, 3 & 4 b. 1, 3 & 4 c. only 1 d. all of these
12) When an engineer is called to be a good professional?
    1) S/he has sound ethical decision making.
    2) S/he has sound technological knowledge.
    3) S/he has problem solving.
    4) S/he has rationality and critical thinking.
    a. 1 & 2 b. 2 & 3 c. 1,2 & 3 d. all of these
13) Run way trolley case is an example to develop:
    1) Ethical decision making
    2) Critical thinking & problem solving
    3) Ethical reasoning
    4) Irrational attitude
    a. 1, 2 & 4 b. 1, 2 &3 c. 3& 4 d. 3 & 4
14) How does the Life-boat case differ from that of the Run-way Trolley case?
    1) First is real, the second is hypothetical.
    2) First is based on hypothetical conditions.
    3) Second is a based hypothetical condition, first on real.
    4) Both are same.
    a. 1& 3 b. 1& 2 c. 1& 4 d. none of these
15) Mill's view is more proper:
    1) It's based on human faculties.
    2) It talks about higher pleasure.
    3) It gives respect to human liberty.
    4) It argues only pleasure.
    a. 1, 2 & 3 b. 2 & 4 c. 1,2 & 4 d. all of these

Passage: 2 (18X1=18)

What should be the ground of just distribution of resources, jobs, powers, positions and educational seats? Whether it should be on the ground of fair distribution or on the grounds of what people deserve? But what people deserve and why. According to moral desert argument people deserve according to their talent, skill and efforts. One should be prized for good and punished for the bad. It is actually what people deserve. However, the moral desert argument should be understood in contrast to the affirmative action theory by which a government usually acts positively in redressing the justice to benefit the underrepresented group in the areas of education, employment and business.

There are three prominent views on the justice and its distribution to the common people. Let's first talk about the John Rawls who in his a Theory of Justice advances a thought experiment what he calls "Original Position". It is actually a situation in veil of ignorance in which all so called self-interest seeking individuals, who are conscious and psychologically fit actors to take decisions or make choices on the benefits and developments, have no knowledge of their arbitrary facts say race, physical disability, cast, gender and class. Now once veil goes up they have to choose and decide on the better principles of justice by which a fair distribution of resources, powers and rights can be made. Rawls argues that there can be two principles seem reasonable in such a situation: 1) Equality principle, according to which each individual must be provided equal rights with the most extensive basic liberties compatible with similar liberties for others, and 2) Difference principle what he calls qualified equality principle that maintains that socio-economic inequalities have to arranged in a manner so that they are to be the greatest benefit of the least advantaged members of society. Here it seems that Rawls tries to balance his theory of justice as fairness in a way making justice to those who are talented and skilled.

Before we go to understand what Rawls actually mean by his difference principle let us try to understand three basic arguments of affirmative action theory: 1) Corrective argument; according to which a government should take positive actions to redress the wrongs of past by benefiting some cast, race, gender or group who have not been given the proper resources to develop and compete, 2) Compensatory argument which points out the fact that some advantaged groups of people have to compensate for some least advantaged groups of people who have been deprived of basic resources for development, and 3) Social Representation / Diversity argument that maintains that the different variety of groups who actually make up the whole society should be given proper and proportionate socio-political-economic representation in terms of education, job and business.
However, Rawls in his qualified equality principle argues that socio-economic inequalities in terms of government affirmative action policies and provisions must be in favor of least well-off. The second prominent view in contrast to distributive theory is Aristotelian Virtue theory in which he criticizes the Utilitarian view of justice in favor of what he calls Teleological view of justice. Aristotle asks: if you have to distribute best flutes to who would you distribute? Generally, we come with responses that we will distribute those best flutes to the needy, interested or who can use flutes at best; will deserve the best flutes. However, surprisingly, Aristotle denies these responses and says the best flutes have to be distributed to the best flute players who have the best excellence or virtues to practice the flute playing. Here, Aristotle offers his teleological explanation to his idea of justice that society is consists of different kinds of people having different virtues and people must be rewarded according to their best virtues by which they practice those virtues and merits at best to create a best society.

Thus, justice in fair distribution has got a telos or purpose to give resources and opportunities to the people so that that can create a good society by practicing their virtues. Aristotelian view really throws insight on a serious issue called reservation. A group of people who are suffering from reservation in education and job usually criticizes the other benefited groups and argue that there should not be inequalities be maintained by the governments through affirmative or positive actions. They further argue that due to reservation less qualified and skilled people get the powers and positions in governance and they produce poor quality results. But, this view is questionable on the grounds that many people of either group advantaged or non-advantaged, meritorious or less qualified are doing the same corruption in the various systems without practicing their skills or virtues. As a result, the so called merit is not serving the purpose to create a better society and most of the people those who are getting opportunity and resources are utilizing and exploiting their powers and positions. Nevertheless, the reservation given in the name of cast, and other arbitrary facts (Moral Luck): which are only by chance and not chosen by any individual is really poses a moral problem of forced discrimination. Therefore, the reservation policies must be in Rawlsian terms be based on qualified equality principle serving the least well-off to really improve the socio-economic condition of less advantaged people.

The third prominent view offers a criticism of both the Rawlsian and Aristotelian views of justice. The third view advocates individual rights theory and of against active roles of government in fair distribution of resources. Immanuel Kant and Robert Nozick are the two main philosophers who actually defend the theory of rights and liberty of people. Immanuel Kant argues that individuals have rationality to decide their better off and thereby they must be given autonomy to choose their own ideas of good life. We should not lead by any purpose to create a better society; rather a better society will automatically come when the individuals will be given basic liberties and rights with a sense of autonomy. On the other hand, Robert Nozick rejects the active roles of governments and strong forms of affirmative action theories. He argues that government roles should be limited to the security and protection of people. There should not be any paternalistic legislation, moral legislation, and wealth re-distribution through taxation. It is in this way a government should not intervene in individuals' lives and should not limit their choices relating to education, job, business and life as a whole. The first two views and the third view in contrast get impression of a tussle between the Fit versus freedom. Rawls and Aristotle argue about the fitness of the principles and virtues, while Nozick and Kant defend the rights and freedom of individuals.

16) What is moral desert?
1. It is according to what people deserve.
2. Moral desert is about fair discrimination.
3. Justice is to reward good and punish the bad.
4. Moral desert put emphasis on one's skill and efforts.
a. 1, 2 & 3 b. 1, 3 & 4 c. 2, 3 & 4 d. 1& 4

17) Who deserve the best flutes?
1. Those who can play flutes at best.
2. Those who are best flute players.
3. Those who need them.
4. Those who fulfill the purpose of flute playing.
a. 3 & 4 b. 1, 3 & 4 c. 2, 3 & 4 d. 1, 2 & 4

18) Which of the following statements are right about the veil of ignorance?
1. It is a thought experiment.
2. People know about their cast, class and gender in this experiment.
3. In this experiment people are known to their arbitrary facts.
4. People are in their original position.
5. It balances the inequal background.
a. 1, 4 & 5 b. 2, 3, 4 & 5 c. 3, 4 & 5 d. All of these

19) What is false about Affirmative Action Theory?
1. A government should not take positive actions to redress the wrongs of past.
2. Socio-economic inequalities should not be based on arbitrary facts.
3. Advantaged groups and un-advantaged both groups should be given equal start.
4. The different variety of groups should be given proper representation.
a. 2, 3 & 4 b. 1, 2 & 3 c. 1, 2 & 4 d. Only 4

20) What is wrong about teleological view of justice?
1. Each virtue has a utility.
2. it's to create a fair society.
3. it's to create a better society.
4. Justice is purposive.
5. it's defended by John Rawls
a. 1, 2 & 5 b. 1, 2 & 3 c. only 1& 5 d. 1, 2 & 4

21) What is wrong about the reservation?
1. Reservation should be given for the people in creamy layer.
2. Reservation should be based on casts.
3. Reservation should not be for vote politics
4. Reservation should help the people who are from poor economic condition.
a. 1, 3 & 4 b. 1, 2 & 4 c. 2, 3 & 4 d. 1& 2

22) Why does Robert Nozick criticize the affirmative action theory?
1. Because a government is wrong in making discrimination.
2. Because a government should intervene in individuals lives.
3. A government should not limit the choices relating to education, job, business and life as a whole.
4. Everyone should be given equal start without reservation.
5. Reservation is fair.
a. 1, 3 & 4 b. 1, 2 ,3 & 5 c. 2, 3, 4 & 5 d. All of these

23) Why does Kant criticize the Teleological Virtue Theory?
1. Because we should not lead by any purpose to create a better society.
2. Because Kant defends the moral desert.
3. Individuals' rationality can decide their better off.
4. Kant defends the freedom and criticizes the fitness view.
a. 1, 2 & 3 b. 2, 3 & 4 c. 1, 3 & 4 d. 1, 2 , 3 & 4

24) What is the corrective argument?
1. It is correcting the past wrongs.
2. It is favoring the reservation.
3. It is to give advantage to some disadvantaged people.
4. It is an affirmative action by the government.
5. It's view against the merit.
a. 1& 4 b. 2, 3 & 4 c. 1, 2 & 3 d. 1, 2 , 3, 4, & 5

25) What is difference principle given by Rawls?
1. It is a principle of qualified equality.
2. It is to justify the talent and skills in society.
3. According to this principle socio-economic inequalities to be accepted for least well-off.
4. It is for the fairness in society.
a. Only 1 & 2 b. 1, 2 & 3 c. 1, 2 , 3 & 4 d. only 3 &4

26) What is insight on corruption from Aristotelian view of Justice?
1. Both talented and reserved category people are doing corruption.
2. Talented people are right in corruption.
3. Talented people are also not creating better society.
4. Merit is not only for getting fair educational seat or job.
a. 1, 3 & 4 b. 2 & 4 c. 2, 3 & 4 d. None of these

D

27) "Corruption starts from the class room." What you can conclude by this statement?
1. Active thinking.
2. Coping assignments is wrong.
3. Engineering is not only for job.
4. Lectures are not for attendance only.
5. Active participation in learning.

a. 1, 2, 3 & 5 b. 2, 3, & 4 c. 1, 2, & 3, d. 4 & 5

28). What is the argument from social representation?
1. It is giving compensation for past wrong.
2. it's for maintaining a variety of groups.
3. it's for maintaining merit.
4. It is giving representation to diversified groups.
5. It is giving equal representation.

a. 1, 2 & 3 b. 1, 2 , 4 & 5 c. 2 & 4 d. 2, 3 , 4 & 5

29) What's wrong about the compensatory argument?
1. Disadvantaged group will compensate for disadvantaged.
2. Disadvantaged group will compensate for advantaged.
3. Advantaged will compensate for disadvantaged.
4. Privileged will do for deprived.
5. Unprivileged will compensate for privileged.

a. 1, 2 , 3 & 4 b. 1, 2 , & 5 c. 3, 4 & 5 d. 1, 2 , 3 , 4 & 5

30) What is a tussle between the Fit versus Freedom?
1. Some scholars defend merit and reject fairness.
2. Some scholars respect the freedom and dismiss the fitness.
3. Libertarians reject the virtue theory.
4. Kantian accepts the virtue theory.
5. Rawls disquality the principle of moral desert.

a. 1, 2 , 3 & 4 b. 3 , 4 & 5 c. 1, 4 & 5 d. 1, 2 , 3 & 5

31) What are the two principles of Justice by John Rawls?
1. Equal rights and liberties.
2. Principle of qualified difference.
3. Principle of equal difference
4. More rights and liberties to Rich people.
5. More rights & liberties to least people.

a. 1, 4 & 5 b. 1, 2 & 3 c. only 1 & 2 d. 1, 2 , 4 & 5

32) Which of the following statements are wrong about Robert Nozick?

1. He advocates Active role of government.
2. He favors affirmative action.
3. He rejects taxation.
4. He favors moral legislation.
5. He objects paternalistic laws.

a. 1, 2, 3 & 4 b. 1, 4 & 5 c. 3, 4 & 5 d. 1, 2 & 4

33) What is the difference between the Moral Luck & Moral Credit?

1. Moral luck is that we determine.
2. Moral credit is based on efforts.
3. Moral luck is arbitrary.
4. Moral credit is by chance.
5. Moral credit is not arbitrary.

a. 1, 2 & 3 b. 3, 4 &5 c. 2, 3 & 5 d. 1, 2 , 3 , 4 & 5

Following small passages will test your general ethical aptitude based on the course of Ethics and Values.

Passage 3 (3X1=3)

Some of the recent cases relating to software gaming have been proved dangerous, deadly and dreadful to the children and the youth. Gaming industry has received unprecedented boom in the market. Almost everyone of this age is somewhat addicted to gamming. But, considering the Blue Whale and the recent Momo gaming issues which have taken many lives, the time has come when it's necessary that gaming industries must take care and adapt ethical strategies in engineering designs of the gaming software. We have to think about the overall development of the youth. Indeed, we love gaming, adventure and excitement. However, they can be enjoyed at best in a valuable sense of life and not at all at the cost of life.

34) As computer science engineering students if you design a game what you will take care?

1. Profitable gaming software.
2. Profitable but not at the cost of human harm.
3. Excitement and pleasure
4. Excitement and pleasure and care.
5. Profit, pleasure and people.

a. 1, 3, & 4 b. 2, 4 & 5 c. 1, 3 &5 d. 1, 2 , 3 , 4 & 5

D

35) Should we ban software Gamming?

1. Yes, it's only for excitement.
2. No, but we should be ethical in its uses.
3. Ban will be a solution.
4. Some games are good for learning and developments.
5. Some games should be banned which hurts human life.

a. 1, 4, & 5 b. 2, 3 & 4 c. only 4 & 5 d. 2, 4 & 5

36) What approach will you follow in software game designing?

1. Maximum pleasure for maximum people.
2. Maximum pleasure but life care.
3. Care ethics.
4. Only Utilitarian.
5. Kantian humanitarian spirit.

a. 1 & 4 b. 2, 3 & 5 c. 2, 3 & 4 d. 1, 2, 3 & 4

Passage:4(3X1=3)

Life without internet, computers and smart phones is terrible to imagine. Now they are not equipments, systems and facilities but the ways of life. Everyone who has the facilities is almost fully engaged in the virtual world. And, now we are more the members of virtual society than the real. Our emotions, feelings, freedom, communications, privacy, personality, performance, publicity and existence to a great extent have occupied a center stage in the virtual space. What if all the ongoing systems, messages, videos, communications and applications get slow down then we become panic. It hurts more when we are having timelines. It happened naturally because of the internet service providers (ISPs) traffic. Internet speed is the crucial fact that enables you to enjoy your virtual life smoothly. In some countries some companies started giving additional net packages to fasten the speed. Airtel in India begin the same in 2014 and faced a huge criticism by the consumers and media. Since then in India people started talking about the Net-Neutrality. It's an ethical issue that companies should not be charging different for the internet speed and facilities. And there should not be any discrimination on that who can afford better because we all need the internet accessibility with equality. Technology should not be making differences among the people when it comes to internet facilities because they are the ways of life; necessary as basic needs in current virtual society. Facebook, what's App, You-tube, Twitter and other social networking sites those who have connected more than 500 million people in India as Internet users have framed a new world and society. And, members of the society will be highly affected if the discrimination is made. In July 2018 the TRAI passed the toughest regulations favoring the Net-Neutrality and made it clear that there cannot be any discrimination to people on internet services except special vehicles and remote surgeries. This we can understand as right to internet.

Questions:

37) Net Neutrality: Why does it matter?

1. It is supporting the virtual life.
2. Society will not be affected.
3. It will affect our freedom and mode of communications.
4. Private companies should charge with different packages.
5. Discrimination amongst the users is morally wrong.

a. 2, 4 & 5 b. 1, 3 & 5 c. 1, 2 & 3. d. 3, 4 & 5

38) "Internet speed is like blood flowing in our virtual systems." What does it mean?

1. All internet users require equal rights.
2. Differences based on special packages will affect users severely.
3. Our life at present is mostly connected with Internet systems.
4. We need to change our life and stop using smart-phones.
5. Internet dependency is a way of life in the virtual world.

a. 1, 2 & 4 b. 1, 2 & 5 c. 1, 2 , 3 & 5 d. 3, 4 & 5

39) Which of the following statements are right?

1. Airtel begun this issue in India.
2. India government has passed very weak laws on it.
3. There are more than 500 million internet users in India.
4. Discrimination is illegal.
5. Net neutrality is an ethical issue.

a. 1, 2 ,3 & 5 b. 1, 3 , 4 & 5 c. 2, 3 & 4 d. 2, 3, 4 & 5

Passage: 5 (2X1=2)

"Female ethics may be different from that of the male ethics; however. the instinct of care that is basic nature in females seems more suitable for males to facilitate their business practices. Hence, it's wrong to say that females cannot be fir for business and economic activities."

40) What is true about Care ethics model :

1. Based on Female ethics
2. Based on Male ethics
3. Suitable for both
4. Suitable only for males.

a. 1& 3 b. 3& 4 c. only 4 d. all of these

D

41) What do you understand by the gender inequality in ethics?

1. Scholars thinking that female and male values are basically different.
2. Both have same values.
3. Females are more fit to household activities.
4. Only males are fit to handle business activities.
5. Females are not meant for business activities.

a. 1,2 & 3 b. 1, 3 ,4 & 5 c. 2 , 3 & 4 d. 1, 2, 4 & 5

Passage 6 (3X1=3)

"Normative ethics is necessary to resolve the ongoing environmental issues. In India River Ganges is most sacred in all, however, we don't care and have made it extremely polluted. This is what we call unethical and uncaring behavior, and reasonably no religion permits pollution. Hence, protecting Ganges is not possible only with governmental efforts but also requires normative ethical understanding of the common man. "For industrial utilities and religious attainments, we pollute it unreasonably without care. This river supports our Indian culture for centuries. But, unfortunately we are not showing scientific temperament to save it and respecting it above all the utilities and attainments."

42) What is normative ethical understanding to River Ganges?

1. It's about ethical norms and practices.
2. It's about understanding right codes of conduct.
3. It's about understanding the use of environment.
4. It's about caring practices to save River Ganges.
5. It's not avoiding pollutant activities to River Ganges.

a. 1, 2, 4 & 5 b. 1, 2 , 3 , 4 & 5 c. 1, 2 , & 4 d. 1, 2 & 5

43) What is author criticizing in the above statements?

1. Unreasonable behavior to the River.
2. Lack of Scientific temperament.
3. Utilitarian and uncaring approach.
4. Right practices to clean the River.
5. Only Religious practices.

a. 1, 2 & 3 b. 2 , 3 & 4 c. 4& 5 d. 1, 2 , 4 & 5

44) What are the ethical insights from the statements?

1. We can clean the river by adapting utilitarian approach.
2. Utilitarian approach is improper in this context.
3. We should be caring and reasonable to the River.
4. Everyone's participation is necessary to clean it.
5. All above.

a. 1, 2 & 3 b. 2, 3 & 4 c. 1 & 4 d. only 5

Passage: 7 (1X6=6)

To ask whether a society is just is to ask how it distributes the things we prize- income and wealth, duties and rights, powers and opportunities, offices and honors. A just society distributes these goods in the right way: it gives each person what s/he deserves. It cares for the social welfare and also for individual freedom & rights. It honors the virtues and respects the moral persons. There basically are three different approaches to understand the justice in society: Welfare approach, Freedom & Rights approach and the Virtue approach. Each of these ideals suggests a different way of thinking about justice.

Libertarians disagree on this point and argue that we must not violate anyone's rights—even if doing so would increase overall happiness. According to libertarians, the greatest threat to individual rights comes from the government. You should be able to drive without a seat belt if you want. The government should not fine you. That is unacceptably paternalist. It undermines one's risk-taking ability. And if you want to use drugs or engage in unconventional behavior, you should be free to do so, provided you don't violate anyone else's rights in the process. The government has no business passing moralistic legislation. It shouldn't tell you how to live your life. Most important, the government should never tax for redistributive purposes. Redistributive taxation is theft. Taking your earnings and giving it to other people is like forcing you to work for those people. Libertarians say it's almost like slavery. Libertarians make strong claims.

Kant holds the view that rationality is the goal of morality; unlike the libertarians, Kant denies that freedom consists in doing whatever one wants. Kant thinks that morality is a kind of universal law which everyone has to obey. Therefore, he thinks it must be the case that everyone could obey it. This is his test for morality. According to Kant, your action is moral only if you acted on a maxim that is universalizable- which you can will to become a universal law. Morality of an action depends on whether it was done with this sense of duty, or not.

Questions:

45) Which of the following statements are false about the Libertarians?

1. We must violate anyone's rights.
2. The greatest threat to individual rights comes from the government.
3. Individual liberty is dependent on maximizing happiness in the society.
4. A government should pass moral legislation for the individuals.
5. We can harm both ourselves and others.

46) "Someone taking drugs or engaging oneself in deviant wrong practices should be free to do so, if he or she does not violate anyone's rights in the process". Why would Kant criticize the above statement?

1. Individual liberty to act on something should not be based on desire satisfaction.
2. Individual rights are not grounded in human nature.
3. By harming one's life through wrong practices; we do not treat humanity as an end in itself.
4. We should satisfy our desires.
5. It's matter of individual freedom & desires.

a. 1,2, 3 & 5 b. 1, 4 & 5 c. 1,2,& 3 d. All of these

47) What is just society?

1. A society that respects only discrimination.
2. It gives each person what s/he deserves.
3. It respects the virtues.
4. It cares for the ideals of welfare, freedom and virtues.
5. It only respects the weak.

a. 1 & 5 b. 4 c. 1& 4 d. 4& 5

48) "You should be able to drive without a seat belt if you want. The government should not fine you. That is unacceptably paternalist". What you can conclude from the above statement?

1. Government should not make paternalistic laws.
2. Paternalistic laws restrict our freedom.
3. Such laws do not respect ownership of the person.
4. Such laws are necessary for freedom.
5. They undermine our risk-taking ability.

a. 1 & 2 b. 3&4 c. 1, 2&3 d. 1, 2, 3 & 5

49) Which of the following statements are right about the Kantian system of morality?

1. Morality is Universal.
2. Desire satisfaction is the goal of morality.
3. Morality is to discover moral law through reason.
4. Morality is to be motivated by a sense of duty.
5. Rationality gives freedom

a. 2, 3&4 b. 1&2 c. 1,2&3 d. 1,3, 4 & 5

50) A Maxim cannot be a Moral Law if:

1. It's universalizable.
2. It's based on my rationality.
3. It satisfies my purpose.
4. It's based on my desire.
5. It's based on sense of duty.

a. 2, 3 & 4 b. 1, 2 & 3 c. 1, 2. 3 & 4 d. 1, 2, 3 , 4 & 5

End -Term Examination, Odd Semester, 2018-19

Programme: B. Tech. (CSE) Year: II Semester: III

Subject with Code: Database Management System, BCSC0003

Time : 3 Hours Maximum Marks: 50

Section – A

7 x 5 = 35 Marks

I. Attempt the following:

a) Consider the following tables A, B and C:

Table A

Id	Name	Age
12	Arun	60
15	Shreya	24
99	Rohit	11

Table B

Id	Name	Age
15	Shreya	24
25	Hari	40
98	Rohit	20
99	Rohit	11

Table C

Id	Phone	Area
10	2200	02
99	2100	01

What will be the output of following relational algebra expression? (Here, ∞ denotes join operation)

$$(A \cup B) \infty_{A.Id>40 \text{ or } C.Id<15} C$$

b) Let $R(a,b,c)$ and $S(d,e,f)$ be two relations in which d is the foreign key of S that refers to the primary key of R. Consider the following four operations R and S:

1. Insert into R
2. Insert into S
3. Delete from R
4. Delete from S

Which of the above operations can cause violation of the referential integrity constraint and why?

II. (a) Construct an E-R diagram for a car-insurance company whose customers own one or more cars each. Each car has associated with it zero to any number of recorded accidents.

(b) Construct appropriate tables for the above ER Diagram?

III. a) Consider a relation R(A, B, C, D) with FD's {A -> D, B -> D, D-> BC} which is decomposed into R1(AD) and R2(BCD). Is this decomposition lossless and/or dependency preserving? Why or why not?

b) Write a short note on indexing and its advantages.

IV. Relation R has eight attributes ABCDEFGH. Fields of R contain only atomic values. F = {CH→G, A→BC, B→CFH, E→A, F→EG} is a set of functional dependencies (FDs) that hold for R.

a) Find all the candidate keys of R.
b) What normal form does R follow? Give reasons for your answer.

V. Consider the schedule S of transactions T1 and T2:

T1	T2
R(A) W(A)
	R(A) R(B) Commit
R(B) W(B) Commit

a) Draw the precedence graph for above schedule. Is this schedule conflict serializable? Explain why or why not?
b) Show how 2PL can ensure a conflict serializable schedule for the same schedule and transactions above. Add lock and unlock instructions. Use notation Li(X) to denote transaction i acquired a lock on data item X and Ui(X) to denote transaction i released the lock on X.

VI. Explain the following in connection with distributed databases:

a) Fragmentation and its types

b) When is the replication advantageous?

VII. Discuss how timestamp ordering protocol helps to ensure serializability? Let us assume that transaction T1 has arrived before transaction T2.

Consider the schedule S = r1(A); r2(B) ; w2(A); w1(B)
Will this schedule be allowed under Timestamp ordering protocol? Why or why not?

Section – B

(a) Attempt all questions. 3 x 2 = 6 Marks

I. Discuss following:

a) Recoverable Schedule

b) Strict Schedule

II. Assume that Ti requests a lock held by Tj. The following table summarizes the actions taken for wait-die and wound-wait scheme.

Situation/Scheme	Wait Die	Wound Wait
Ti is older than Tj	W	X
Ti is younger than Tj	Y	Z

Fill correct status of Ti and Tj at W, Y, X, and Z respectively.

III. Discuss the validation based protocol and discuss its advantages.

(b) Attempt all questions. 3 x 3 = 9 Marks

I. Consider the given schedule

S = T1:R(x), T1:R(y), T1:W(x), T2:R(y), T3:W(y), T1:W(x), T2:W(y)

Is the above schedule conflict and/or view serializable. Give reasons in support of your answer.

II. Discuss the techniques of deferred and immediate database modification.

Consider a simple checkpointing protocol and the following set of operations in the log.

(start, T4); (write, T4, y, 2, 3); (start, T1); (commit, T4); (write, T1, z, 5, 7); (checkpoint);

(start, T2); (write, T2, x, 1, 9); (commit, T2); (start, T3); (write, T3, z, 7, 2);

If a crash happens now and the system tries to recover using both undo and redo operations, what are the contents of the undo list and the redo list?

III. Discuss two phase locking protocol, its advantages and drawbacks.
