Explanation

- Do you often (like to) listen to music?
  - Yes, I enjoy listening to music quite a bit. There are a number of advantages that music listening may offer people. It has the power to arouse feelings, elevate mood, ease tension, sharpen attention, foster creativity, and even promote relaxation. People can emotionally connect with one other through music.

Part 2 – Cue Card/ Task Card

The candidate is expected to speak on a topic for 2 minutes after preparing for 1 minute.

The candidates will be provided with a pen and paper to make notes and for mind-mapping.

This part evaluates whether the candidate can speak at length.

The topics in this part are usually related to daily life scenarios.

For example:

- Talk about your childhood friend.
- Who is he/she?
- What does he/she do?
- How do you know him/her?
- Do you like/dislike him/her?

Strategies to plan a Cue Card/Task Card

Follow the IBC format: Introduction, Body Paragraph, and Conclusion

- Introduction – 2-3 lines on the background of the topic (Setting the scene of the story)
- Body Paragraph – Address every prompt in detail and in the same order as that of the question in 12-15 lines (Coming to the story)
- Conclusion – Conclude (The end of the story) the cue card/task card in 2-3 lines by :
  - Providing what you hope about it in the future
  - Providing a recommendation/solution for it
  - Providing your standpoint on the same

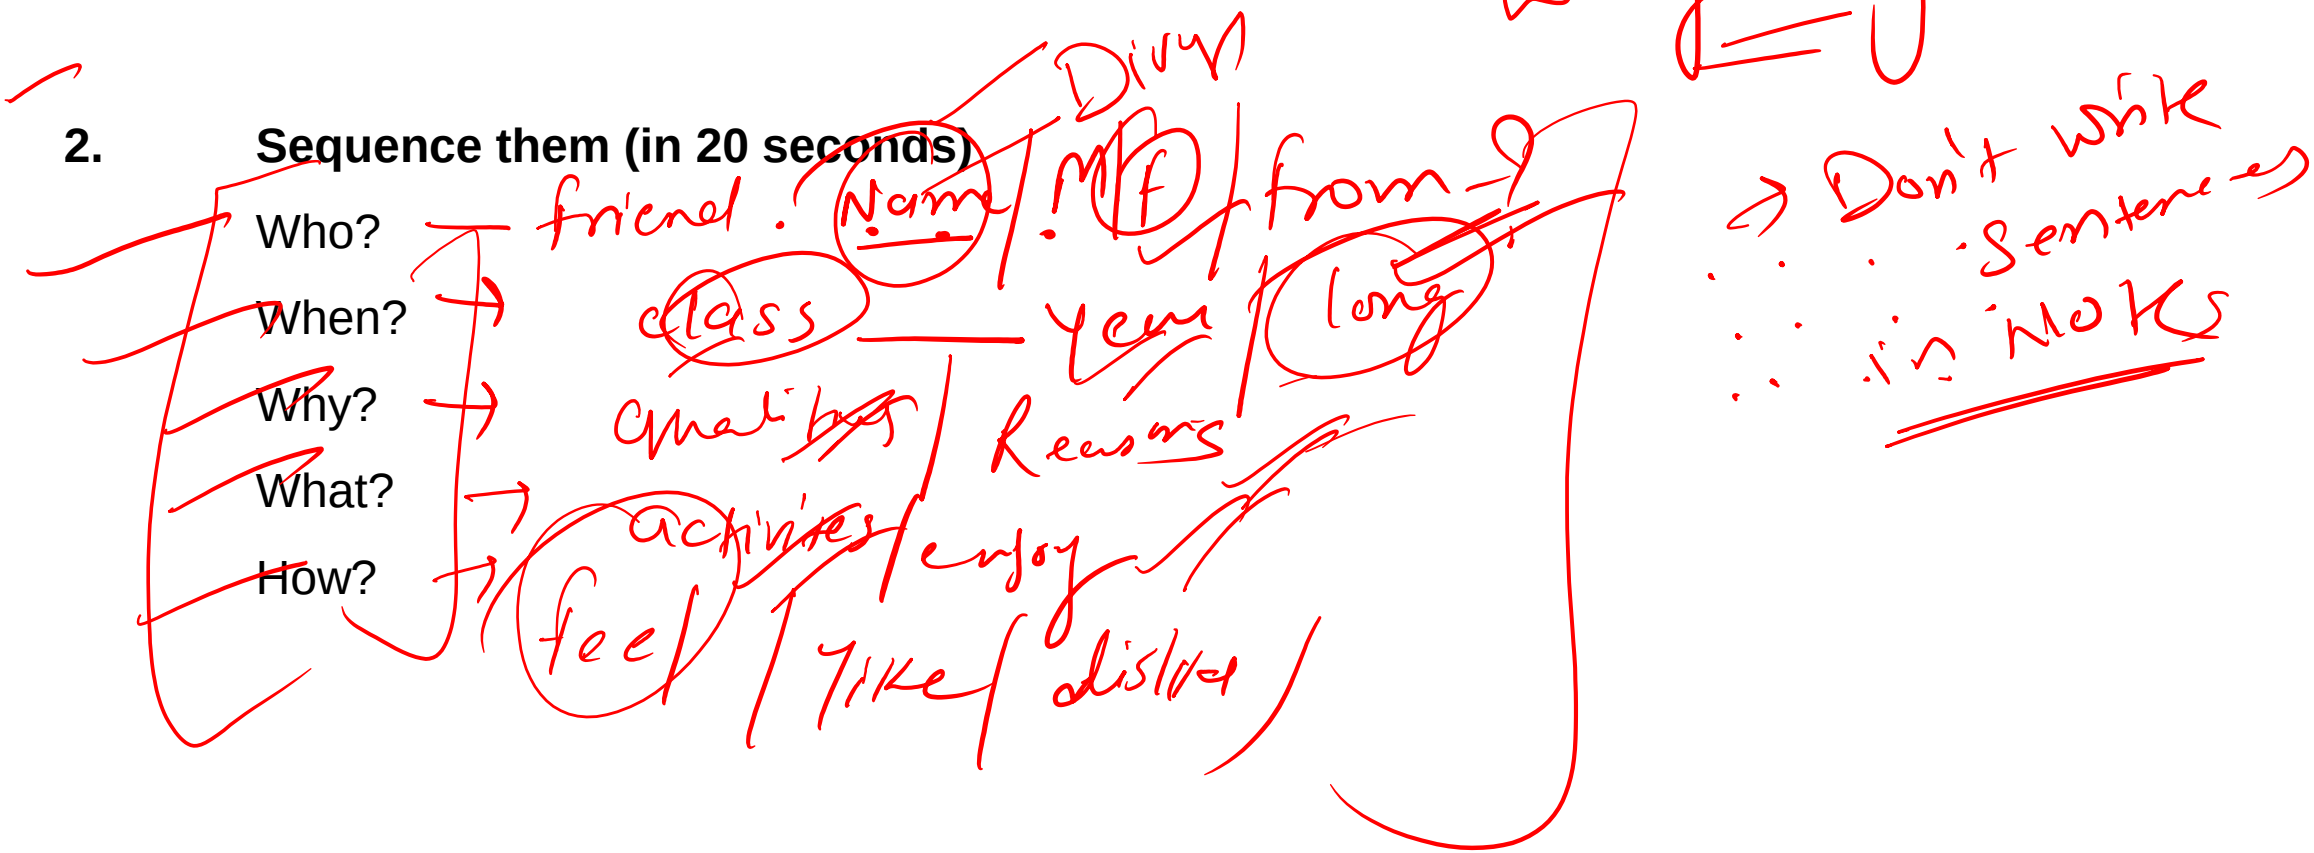

1 min- Prep Time

1. Think of the answers to wh-words (in 40 seconds)

   what, when, where, who, why, how

2. Sequence them (in 20 seconds)

   Who?
   When?
   Why?
   What?
   How?

Part 2 – Cue Card/ Task Card

There are five types of cue cards:

1. Person: Talk about your favorite person in your family.
2. Place: Talk about a historical/religious place you have recently visited.
3. Object: Talk about a gift that you received.
4. Event/experience/situation: Talk about a party you attended.
5. Hybrid (Mixture/Miscellaneous): Talk about a famous business in your country.

Cue Card

Describe a time someone apologized to you

You should say:

- What happened
- Who the person was
- Why they apologized to you
- and explain how you feel about it.

1 Min- how to use

1. Think of the answers to wh-words

   What – dish, served late, undercooked, cold

   Who – waiter, humble, respectful

   Where – restaurant, center of the town, for dinner

   How – pleased, content, cherished the eve

2. Sequence them

Practice Exercises

Talk about a person who you think is similar to you.

- Who is he/she?
- What does he/she do?
- How do you know him/her?
- Why do you think he/she is similar to you?

Talk about a person who cheated you.

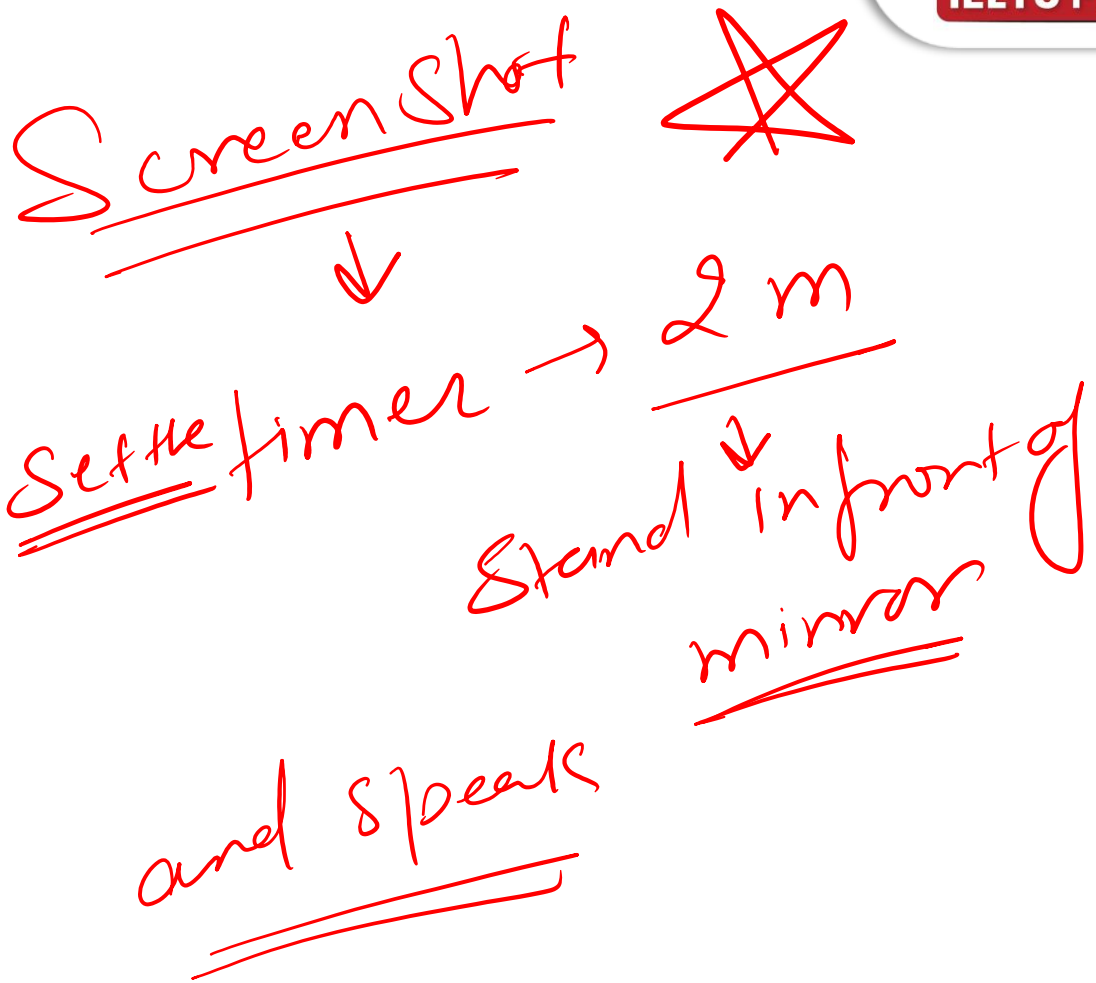

- Who is he/she?
- How do you know him/her?
- How he/she cheated on you?
- Explain how you reacted to the situation?

Talk about your role model.

- Who is he/she?
- What does he/she do?
- Why he/she is your role model?
- Explain whether you like all of his/her qualities.

Talk about your favorite celebrity from another country.

- Who is he/she?
- How do you know him/her?
- What is his/her expertise?
- Explain whether you like all of his/her qualities.

Topic- Part 3

It is a two way discussion with examiner lasting for 4-5 minutes.

- You will be asked more questions about your Part 2 topic.
- It gives you the opportunity to show a greater range of speaking skills.
- The examiner's questions will encourage you to express your thoughts, feelings and opinions.
- You will only be assessed on your English language skills.

Common Mistakes

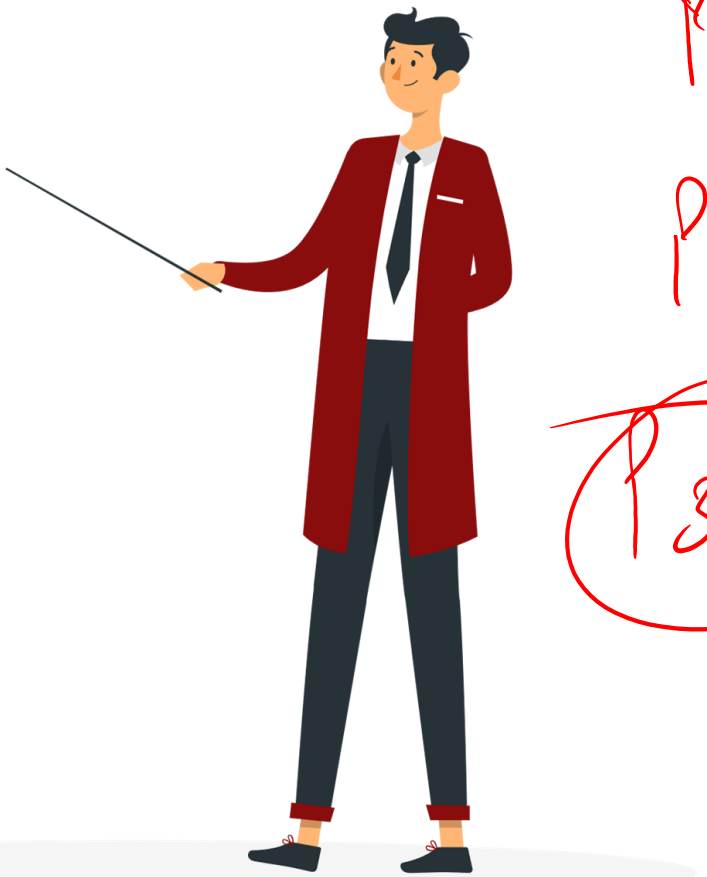

- Your responses are far too brief.
- Tough questions cause you anxiety.
- You completely get the question, yet you don't listen.
- You don't provide examples to back up your responses.

TEST TIP: In order for the examiner to evaluate your command of the language, it is crucial that you respond completely to every question in each section of the test. Additionally, this will raise your score. Make careful to include as much context as you can for your responses.

Opinion based questions

Do you think people in your country are less healthy than they used to be?

Personally, I think that the health of many people is worse than it used to be. This is mainly due to obesity caused by an unhealthy diet. Being overweight can cause diabetes, heart problems and many other serious health issues. A high percentage of the population don't take regular exercise which is another factor that contributes to poor health.

There have, of course, been major improvements in health care in recent years. This means that more illnesses and diseases can now be cured which has had a positive effect on health in general. However, in my opinion, many people in my country are less healthy these days because of unhealthy lifestyles.

Hypothetical questions

These are about ‘unreal’ or imaginary situations. For example:

Question: If tourists stopped visiting your area, what effect would it have on the economy?

If tourists stopped visiting the beautiful beaches where I live, it would have a terrible impact on our local economy. Tourism is our most important industry and many people run hotels and guest houses or work in popular restaurants and cafés. Lots of shops sell beachwear and souvenirs so these would soon go out of business. Also, there would not be enough other jobs in the area for all the people involved in tourism to find work.

So, I have to say that it would have a disastrous effect on the economy in my area if tourists no longer came here on holiday.

Compare and Contrast

Question: What are the advantages of living in a city compared to living in the countryside?

If tourists stopped visiting the beautiful beaches where I live, it would have a terrible impact on our local economy. Tourism is our most important industry and many people run hotels and guest houses or work in popular restaurants and cafés. Lots of shops sell beachwear and souvenirs so these would soon go out of business. Also, there would not be enough other jobs in the area for all the people involved in tourism to find work.

So, I have to say that it would have a disastrous effect on the economy in my area if tourists no longer came here on holiday.

Change

Question: How has education changed since your parents were children?

Kwame: The biggest difference is that education is now compulsory for all children up to the age of eleven and many stay on into senior school. My father only went to school for a few years as he had to work in the fields and look after the cattle full-time from the age of eight. My mother didn't go to school at all as she was needed at home to help cook, clean and mind her younger brothers and sisters. Education wasn't considered important for girls back then.

What is taught in schools hasn't changed much but in towns and cities the children use computers and can learn all about the world via the internet. In small villages, like the one I come from, there are still very few teaching resources and certainly no computers. So some changes in education depend on where you live.

Benefits

Question: What do you think are the benefits of hobbies?

I believe that there are many great benefits to be gained from having a hobby. First, taking up a leisure activity is an excellent way of making new friends, especially when you move to a new area, as you meet like-minded people who share your interest.

Second, having an interesting pastime is good for mental health as it can help to relieve stress and often improves work-life balance.

Finally, many leisure pursuits bring new challenges and the chance to learn new skills, which are both added benefits.
